Complete Book of Australian Folk Lore Bill Scott, 1981 The Oxford Companion to Australian Folklore Gwenda Davey, Graham Seal, 1993 One of the best ways to ascertain a nation's character is to examine its informal or unofficial culture its folklore Australians sense of nationality is defined not merely in relation to the places they inhabit and the careers they pursue but also via the slang and languages they speak the jokes and yarns they exchange the objects they make the way they behave towards one another and the games they play As Australia approaches the centenary of Federation it is timely that questions should be asked about the nature of the Australian identity in a changing urbanized multicultural society The Oxford Companion to Australian Folklore addresses these questions and illustrates the range and importance of Australia's folkloric heritage Some of Australia's best known writers folklorists and academics have contributed articles to the Companion Entries range from the descriptive Gumleaf playing to the analytical Popular culture and folklore from country halls to graffiti to archival preservation of audio tapes from the bunyip to rebetika Greek blues from chain letters to patchwork quilts and Wagga rugs Also included are biographies of notables in the folklore field and short entries on myths and heroes such as Ned Kelly Henry Lawson The Wild Colonial Boy and The Dog on the Tucker Box Many entries contain references for those wishing to read further on a particular topic and an appendix supplies bibliographic guidance for researchers Until recently Australia was one of the few countries in the world that tended to disregard the collection preservation study and recognition of its folk heritage and its contemporary folklore As well as being an invaluable reference for students families and cultural historians The Oxford Companion to Australian Folklore is a milestone in the scholarship of Australian folklore The Best Books: Class A, Theology. B, Mythology and folklore. C, Philosophy. 1910 William Swan Sonnenschein, 1910 Australian Folklore Bill Wannan, 1976 Class A, Theology. B, Mythology and folklore. C, Philosophy. 1910 William Swan Sonnenschein, 1910 Migrants, Television and Australian Stories Kate Darian-Smith, Sue Turnbull, Sukhmani Khorana, Kyle Harvey, 2025-05-26 This book examines the intertwined histories of television and migration in Australia told from the perspectives of migrants who worked in the screen industry and the many more who watched television Their stories demonstrate how Australia's growing cultural diversity has challenged conventional representations of Australianness on television and how ongoing advocacy has supported the growing inclusivity of multiple narratives and diverse experiences on screen Migrants from many backgrounds were instrumental in the establishment in 1956 of Australian television working behind and in front of the cameras as producers directors writers technicians and actors From early broadcasting to the digital present portrayals of cultural differences have often been shaped by appropriation ethnic stereotyping and racism This has occurred across a range of formats from drama to comedy to news and reality shows Many in the industry have responded with resilience and creative adaptation as they have increasingly taken control of the ways that migrant stories are told and diversity is celebrated The first comprehensive Australian study of migrants and television

this book considers the ways multicultural audiences have experienced the small screen over seven decades Drawing on rich oral histories it analyses the memories of television in the work school family life and leisure of migrant communities and their broader engagements with Australian culture Research in the archives of broadcasters and production companies reveals how non Anglo Australian characters were constructed and how such portrayals have shifted This new history takes us to digital screen production and consumption today exploring how Australians of many diasporas engage with the global network of screen content in the twenty first century It is essential reading for media professionals advocates students and those interested in the intersections between media cultural diversity and the nation The Best Books: A, Theology. B, Mythology and folklore. C, Philosophy William Swan Sonnenschein,1910 Australian Folk Resources Graham Seal,1983

Engaging Humor Elliott Oring,2010-10-01 Exploring the structure motives and meanings of humor in everyday life In Engaging Humor Elliott Oring asks essential questions concerning humorous expression in contemporary society examining how humor works why it is employed and what its messages might be This provocative book is filled with examples of jokes and riddles that reveal humor to be a meaningful even significant form of expression Oring scrutinizes classic Jewish jokes frontier humor racist cartoons blonde jokes and Internet humor He provides alternate ways of thinking about humorous expressions by examining their contexts not just their contents He also shows how the incongruity and absurdity essential to the production of laughter can serve serious communicative ends Engaging Humor examines the thoughts that underlie jokes the question of racist motivation in ethnic humor and the use of humor as a commentary on social interaction The book also explores the relationship between humor and sentimentality and the role of humor in forging national identity Engaging Humor demonstrates that when analyzed contextually and comparatively humorous expressions emerge as communications that are startling intriguing and profound Australian Folklore Tales Elena N.
