Marshev, 2021-01-13 This book describes the millennia long process of the genesis formation struggle and change of views on the management of social organizations in various countries around the world in other words it characterizes the worldwide evolution of the History of Management Thought HMT ideas concepts theories paradigms and scientific schools from Antiquity to the present The book is the outcome of extensive research based on the analysis generalization and systematization of foreign and domestic published literature as well as on the gathering and analysis of unique archival materials For the first time in the historical and managerial literature the book puts forward original definitions of three historical and managerial sciences the History of Management the History of Management Thought and the Historiography of Historical and Managerial Research It addresses the main challenges in pursuing Historical and Scientific Research HSR the main subject levels of HSR and specific methodological problems concerning HMT as well as epistemological methods for identifying key factors in and causes of the advent and evolution of HMT This book presents both the origins of management thought dating back to the 5th millennium BC and the latest management concepts of the early 21st century In particular it traces the origins and sources of management thought reflected in the works of thinkers and statesmen of the Ancient World Egypt Western Asia China India Greece and Rome the era of feudalism and the Middle Ages Byzantium Western Europe and England the era of inception capitalism Western Europe and the USA as well as the new and recent history of management thought of the 20th and 21st centuries In addition for the first time in History of Management literature it presents the history of Russian management thought from the 9th century to modern concepts and scientific schools

Postmodern Management Theory Marta B. Calás, Linda Smircich, 2019-01-15 First published in 1997 this volume asks when was The Postmodern in the History of Management Thought Marta B Cal s and Linda Smircich have chosen this subtitle as entry point to the collection for several reasons The first and most evident is that it prompts us to reflect on the inclusion of a volume on postmodern organization studies within a series of books on the history of management thought What does such inclusion signal Are we saying that we are past the postmodern in organization studies That we have transcended modernity and beyond postmodernity Similar to other social sciences organization and management studies in the Anglo American and European academy became impressed by the styles of postmodernism and their epistemological companions poststructuralisms during the 1980s For this collection we have selected twenty two journal articles published between 1985 and 1996 that we consider emblematic of postmodern endeavours in management thought as they further our understanding of how truth of any paradigmatic persuasion is fashioned through particular discourses and other signifying practices Taken together these articles address the following questions What has the field accomplished through attempts at being postmodern With what consequences And where does the field stand now if it is still already going after the postmodern In our view the postmodern cannot transcend modern management thought it is rather part of it Nevertheless the mere appearance of efforts towards making the field postmodern makes it important to account for them in the history of the field Such is the narrative that we are trying to portray in this volume
