

The background of the cover features a detailed block diagram of an automatic flight control system. At the top, a box contains the transfer function $K_0 G_0 + s K_1 G_0$. Below this, a summing junction (represented by a circle with a plus sign) receives an input from the left and another from a feedback loop. The output of this junction goes into a block labeled "Elevator servo" containing the transfer function $-G_1$. The output of the elevator servo is δ_e , which enters a block labeled "Airplane dynamics". The output of the airplane dynamics block is δ_T , which enters a block labeled "Throttle servo". The output of the throttle servo is δ_T , which is fed back to the summing junction. There are also several small airplane icons scattered throughout the diagram, some appearing to fly along a path.
