The Black Arts Enterprise and the Production of African American Poetry Howard Ramsby, 2018-05-09 A closer look at the poets and publishers who made the Black Arts Movement such an enduring cultural enterprise Encyclopedia of American Poetry: The Twentieth Century Eric L. Haralson, 2014-01-21 The Encyclopedia of American Poetry The Twentieth Century contains over 400 entries that treat a broad range of individual poets and poems along with many articles devoted to topics, schools or periods of American verse in the century. Entries fall into three main categories: poet entries which provide biographical and cultural contexts for the author's career; entries on individual works which offer closer explication of the most resonant poems in the 20th century canon; and topical entries which offer analyses of a given period of literary production, school, thematically constructed category or other verse tradition that historically has been in dialogue with the poetry of the United States.

Fieldworks Lytle Shaw, 2013-01-22 Fieldworks offers a historical account of the social, rhetorical and material attempts to ground art and poetry in the physicality of a site. Arguing that place-oriented inquiries allowed poets and artists to develop new experimental models of historiography and ethnography, Lytle Shaw draws out the shifting terms of this practice from World War II to the present through a series of illuminating case studies. Beginning with the alternate national genealogies unearthed by William Carlos Williams in Paterson and Charles Olson in Gloucester, Shaw demonstrates how subsequent poets sought to ground such inquiries in concrete social formations to, in effect, live the poetics of place. Gary Snyder in his back-to-the-land familial compound, Kitkitdizze Amiri Baraka in a black nationalist community in Newark, Robert Creeley and the poets of Bolinas, California in the capacious now of their poet-run town. Turning to the work of Robert Smithson, who called one of his essays an appendix to Paterson and who in turn has exerted a major influence on poets since the 1970s, Shaw then traces the emergence of site-specific art in relation both to the poetics of place and to the larger linguistic turn in the humanities, considering poets including Clark Coolidge, Bernadette Mayer and Lisa Robertson. By putting the poetics of place into dialog with site specificity in art, Shaw demonstrates how poets and artists became experimental explicators not just of concrete locations and their histories but of the discourses used to interpret sites more broadly. It is this dual sense of fieldwork that organizes Shaw's groundbreaking history of site-specific poetry. African
