Black Picket Fences Privilege And Peril Among The Black Middle Class:

Black Picket Fences Mary E. Pattillo, 1999-10 The author takes a stark and candid look at a section of America often ignored by both scholars and the media the black middle class The Black Professional Middle Class Eric S. Brown, 2013-11-07 Through an in depth case study of the black professional middle class in Oakland this book provides an analysis of the experiences of black professionals in the workplace community and local politics Brown shows how overlapping dynamics of class formation and racial formation have produced historically powerful processes of what he terms racialized class formation resulting in a distinct and internally differentiated entity not merely a subset of a larger professional middle class Dubois, Fanon, Cabral Charles F. Peterson, 2007-01-01 DuBois Fanon Cabral is an examination of the overlap of culture class and political leadership in the Africana liberation struggle Focusing on the writings and activism of W E B DuBois Frantz Fanon and Amilcar Cabral this book explores the three theorists articulation of the relationship between acculturation and mass popular leadership among colonized elites in the African diaspora Through the trans cultural and historic scope of the book Dr Charles F Peterson demonstrates how colonized elite leadership is a problematic to anti colonial movements Engaging in cross disciplinary approach Peterson analyzes the various voices perspectives and media through which this problem has been addressed DuBois Fanon Cabral is a captivating text that will stimulate discussion among academics and others interested in culture and politics in Africana studies Unfair Housing Mara S. Sidney, 2003 It is difficult to ignore the fact that even as the United States becomes much more racially and ethnically diverse our neighborhoods remain largely segregated The 1968 Fair Housing Act and 1977 Community Reinvestment Act promised to end discrimination yet for millions of Americans housing options remain far removed from the American Dream Why do most neighborhoods in American cities continue to be racially divided The problem suggests Mara Sidney lies with the policies themselves She contends that to understand why discrimination persists we need to understand the political challenges faced by advocacy groups who implement them In Unfair Housing she offers a new explanation for the persistent color lines in our cities by showing how weak national policy has silenced and splintered grassroots activists Sidney explains how political compromise among national lawmakers with divergent interests resulted in housing legislation that influenced how community activists defined discrimination what actions they took and which political relationships they cultivated As a result local governments became less likely to include housing discrimination on their agendas existing laws went unenforced and racial segregation continued A former undercover investigator for a fair housing advocacy group Sidney takes readers into the neighborhoods of Minneapolis and Denver to show how federal housing policy actually works She examines how these laws played out in these cities and reveals how they eroded activists capability to force more sweeping reform in housing policy Sidney also shows how activist groups can cultivate community resources to overcome these difficulties looking across levels of government to analyze how national policies interact with local politics In the first book to apply policy design theories of Anne Schneider and Helen Ingram to an empirical case Sidney illuminates overlooked impacts of fair housing and community reinvestment policies and extends their theories to the study of local politics and nonprofit organizations Sidney argues forcefully that understanding the link between national policy and local groups sheds light on our failure to reduce discrimination and segregation As battles over fair housing continue her book helps us understand the shape of the battlefield and the prospects for victory The Black Middle Class Benjamin P. Bowser,2007 The widespread presence of successful African Americans in virtually all walks of life has led many in the United States to believe that the races are now on an equal footing and that color blindness is the most appropriate way to deal with racial difference In strong contrast Benjamin Bowser argues that the seemingly comparable black and white middle classes while inextricably linked in fact exist on entirely different economic planes Probing the subtle inner workings of contemporary class dynamics Bowser demonstrates that belief in comparability is based not in reality but in hopes sentiment and ideology His focus on the structural barriers that underlie differences in black and white achievement makes it clear that the national racial dilemma has not been solved but only transformed and that issues of race and class are inseparable in the United States Black Enterprise ,2000-06 BLACK ENTERPRISE is the ultimate source for wealth creation for African American professionals entrepreneurs and corporate executives Every month BLACK ENTERPRISE delivers timely useful information on careers small business and personal finance Cases for Mathematics Teacher Educators Dorothy Y. White,Sandra Crespo,Marta Civil,2016-10-07 The AMTE s 2015 position paper on Equity in Mathematics Teacher Education outlines actions for mathematics teacher educators MTEs to promote equitable practices This book offers resources for discussions on these actions drawing on the insights of 87 committed authors and featuring 19 cases and 57 commentaries The Cosmopolitan Canopy Elijah Anderson,2012-03-12 A Yale sociology professor discusses how everyday people meet the demands of urban living through islands of civility he calls cosmopolitan canopies and describes how activities carried out under this canopy can ease racial tensions and promote harmony Race, Ethnicity, and Consumption Patricia A. Banks,2020-07-08 Race Ethnicity and Consumption A Sociological View looks at the central concerns of consumer culture through the lens of race and ethnicity Each chapter illustrates the connections between race ethnicity and consumption by focusing on a specific theme identity crossing cultures marketing and advertising neighborhoods discrimination and social activism By exploring issues such as multicultural marketing cultural appropriation consumer racial profiling urban food deserts and racialized political consumerism students scholars and other curious readers will gain insight on the ways that racial and ethnic boundaries shape and are shaped by consumption This book goes beyond the typical treatments of race and ethnicity in introductory texts on consumption by not only providing a comprehensive overview of the major theories and concepts that sociologists use to make sense of consumption race and ethnicity but also by examining these themes within distinctly contemporary contexts such as digital platforms and activism Documenting the complexities and contradictions within consumer culture Race Ethnicity and Consumption is an excellent text for sociology courses on consumers and consumption race and ethnicity the economy and inequality It will also be an informative resource for courses on consumer culture in the broader social sciences marketing and the humanities The Gaither Reporter ,1998-12 African American Research Perspectives ,2002 The Kaleidoscope of Gender Joan Z. Cherlin,2008 Nationally recognized for its sound scholarship and balanced approach and written by one of the leading authorities in the field this text examines the family through two lenses the familiar private family in which we live most of our personal lives and the public family in which we as adults deal with broader societal issues such as the care of the elderly the increase in divorce and childbearing outside of marriage The book looks at intimate personal concerns such as whether to marry as well as societal concerns such as governmental policies that affect families Distinctive chapters Chapter 9 Children and Parents Chapter 10 The Elderly and Their Families and Chapter 14 The Family the State and Social Policy examine issues of great current interest such as income assistance to poor families the effects of out of home childcare and the costs of the Social Security and Medicare programs The Intricacies of African American Identity Jennifer Eggerling-Boeck,2004 People Get Ready Michael Stephen Hanson,2002 American Project Sudhir Alladi Venkatesh,2000-11-13 Based on nearly a decade of fieldwork in Chicago s Robert Taylor Homes American Project is the first comprehensive story of daily life in an American public housing complex Venkatesh draws on his relationships with tenants gang members police officers and local organizations to offer an intimate portrait of an inner city community Compelled to Excel Vivian S. Louie,2004 In the contemporary American imagination Asian Americans are considered the quintessential immigrant success story a powerful example of how the culture of immigrant families rather than their race or class matters in education and upward mobility Drawing on extensive interviews with second generation Chinese Americans attending Hunter College a public commuter institution and Columbia University an elite Ivy League school Vivian Louie challenges the idea that race and class do not matter Though most Chinese immigrant families see higher education as a necessary safeguard against potential racial discrimination Louie finds that class differences do indeed shape the students different paths to college How do second generation Chinese Americans view their college plans And how do they see their incorporation into American life In addressing these questions Louie finds that the views and experiences of Chinese Americans have much to do with the opportunities challenges and contradictions that all immigrants and their children confront in the United States
