I live in the past

I don't care what people think

I'm a different person when the sun's out

I'm not bothered about a bit of dust

I never refuse a drink

I don't speak a foreign language

I'm lost without my dog

I wouldn't live anywhere else!

Critical Multiculturalism Stephen May, 1999 This text aims to bring together two movements of multiculturalism and anti racism which have previously been distant from each other

Extreme Violence and the 'British Way' Michelle Gordon, 2020-10-29 Analysing three cases of British colonial violence that occurred in the latter half of the 19th century this book argues that all three share commonalities including the role of racial prejudices in justifying the perpetration of extreme colonial violence Exploring the connections and comparisons between the Perak War 1875-76 the Hut Tax Revolt in Sierra Leone 1898-99 and the Anglo Egyptian War of Reconquest in the Sudan 1896-99 Gordon highlights the significance of decision making processes communication between London and the periphery and the influence of individual colonial administrators in outbreaks of violence This study reveals the ways in which racial prejudices the advocacy of a British civilising mission and British racial superiority informed colonial administrators decisions on the ground as well as the rationalisation of extreme violence Responding to a neglect of British colonial atrocities within the historiography of colonial violence this work demonstrates the ways in which Britain was just as willing and able as other European Empires to resort to extreme measures in the face of indigenous resistance or threats to the British imperial project The British Way of War Andrew Lambert, 2021-10-26 How a strategist's ideas were catastrophically ignored in 1914 but shaped Britain's success in the Second World War and beyond Leading historian Andrew Lambert shows how as a lawyer civilian and Liberal Julian Corbett 1854-1922 brought a new level of logic advocacy and intellectual precision to the development of strategy Corbett skillfully integrated classical strategic theory British history and emerging trends in technology geopolitics and conflict to prepare the British state for war He emphasized that strategy is a unique national construct rather than a set of universal principles and recognized the importance of domestic social reform and the evolving British Commonwealth Corbett's concept of a maritime strategy dominated by the control of global communications and economic war survived the debacle of 1914-18 when Britain used the German way of war at unprecedented cost in lives and resources It proved critical in the Second World War shaping Churchill's conduct of the conflict from the Fall of France to D Day And as Lambert shows Corbett's ideas continue to influence British thinking

The British Way in Warfare: Power and the International System, 1856-1956 Professor Greg Kennedy, Professor Keith Neilson, 2013-06-28 In his groundbreaking book The British Way in Warfare Routledge 1990 David French outlined the skillful combination of maritime economic and diplomatic power employed by Britain to achieve its international goals Almost two decades later this collection offers a reassessment of French's thesis using it as a lens through which to explore Britain's relationship with various kinds of power military and civil and how this was employed across the globe In particular each essay addresses the ways in which the use of power manifested itself in the maintenance of Britain's place within the international system between 1856 and 1956 Adopting twin methodologies the collection firstly addresses the broad question of Britain's relationship with other Great Powers and how these influenced the strategies used before then testing these with specific case studies By taking this approach it is possible to discern which policies were successful and which failed and whether these remained constant across time and space Measuring Britain s strategy against her commercial imperial and military competitors including France the USA Italy Germany and Russia allows intriguing conclusions to be drawn about just how an essentially maritime power could compete with much larger and potentially more powerful continental rivals With contributions from an outstanding selection of military scholars this collection addresses fundamental questions about the intersection of military economic and diplomatic history that are as relevant today as they were during the height of Britain s imperial power It will prove essential reading not only for those with an interest in British military history but for anyone wishing to understand how power in all its multifaceted guises can be employed for national advantage on the international stage Réalités ,1958 Journal of the Royal Institute of British Architects Royal Institute of British Architects,1909 My Life and Times Fe Chamberlain,1998 Former WA trade union and Labour Party leader s autobiography 1900 1984 British-American Relations James Davenport Whelpley,1924 London Calling ,1947 The Zionist Review ,1920 The Crown Colonist ,1945 'Education for All' Great Britain. Committee of Inquiry into the Education of Children from Ethnic Minority Groups,Michael Swann Baron Swann,1985 Richard Corfield of Somaliland Henry Francis Battersby,1914 The Nation and the Athenaeum ,1921 Iron Age ,1899 Women Across Continents Lena Dominelli,1991 This is a comparative feminist analysis of the impact of social policy on women across capitalist socialist and social democratic countries The book looks at income maintenance and family and health policies in capitalist market and socialist planned economies in Britain and other countries English Mechanic and World of Science ,1905 The Review of Reviews William Thomas Stead,1905 Industry and empire Eric J.
