Children Who Survived a School Shooting and Chose to Teach Michelle Markert-Porter, 2025-09-22 Written from the first person perspective of a Columbine shooting survivor this book documents the experiences of a group of school shooting survivors who went on to become teachers More than 25 years after the shooting on April 20 1999 at Columbine High School the policies and practices in place to prevent school shootings do not seem to be working In fact school shootings have increased since 1999 and continue to increase Through a phenomenological study of the author s own experiences as well as 11 other Columbine survivors who went on to become teachers this book examines how surviving a school shooting has impacted every aspect of their personal and professional lives The participants offer ideas and suggestions on how to decrease school shootings sharing candid stories about bullying at Columbine as well as the ways that teachers helped save their lives on the day of the shooting and their views on the idea of arming teachers The book concludes with recommendations for survivor informed best practices for US schools adding an essential and often overlooked perspective to the debate around making teachers responsible for preventing school shootings A forward looking and unique addition to the conversation about school shootings this book is an essential resource for researchers faculty scholars and post graduate students with interests in education criminology school shootings restorative justice trauma studies suicide prevention and bullying      Human Rights and Drug Control Saul Takahashi,2016-08-11 It has become almost accepted knowledge within international policy circles that efforts against drug trafficking and drug abuse violate human rights and that the entire international drug control regime needs to be changed or even discarded altogether to adopt a more rights respecting approach Though this view has been promoted by many prominent figures and organisations the author of this book uses his expertise in both human rights and drug control to show that the arguments advanced in this area do not stand close scrutiny The arguments are in fact based on selective and questionable interpretations of international human rights standards and on a general notion more and more clearly stated that there is a human right to take drugs and that any effort to combat drug abuse by definition violates this right There is no such right in international law and the author objects to the misuse of human rights language as a marketing tool to bring about a back door legalisation of drugs Human rights issues must be addressed but that in no way means that the international drug control regime must be discarded or that efforts against drugs must be stopped      Working Plan for the North and South
