T&T Clark Handbook of Colin Gunton Andrew Picard, Murray Rae, Myk Habets, 2021-01-14 The T T Clark Handbook of Colin Gunton is a theological companion to the study of Gunton's theology and a resource for thinking about Gunton's importance in modern theology Each of the essays brings Gunton's depth to a broad range of contemporary theological concerns The volume unveils cutting edge Gunton scholarship for a new generation and at the same time enables readers to see the timely significance of Gunton today Each of the essays not only introduces readers to key themes in the Gunton corpus but also provides readers with fresh interpretations that are fully conversant with the contemporary theological problems facing the church Designed as both a guide for students and a reference point for scholars the companion seeks both to outline the frameworks of key Gunton debates while at all times

pushing forward fresh interpretative strategies concerning his thought The Bible: Culture, Community, Society Angus Paddison, Neil Messer, 2013-04-11 What kind of authority does Scripture have How is Scripture's authority to be negotiated in relation to other sources of authority And what are the implications of confessing the Bible to be authoritative The Bible Culture Community and Society seeks to answer these questions covering three core themes First reading the Bible in the context of modernity the challenges the intellectual history of modernity has posed to the Bible's authority and how historical work can co exist with a commitment to the Bible as the Word of God Secondly the Bible as a text that forms the church community how the Bible as an authoritative text shapes a culture Thirdly reading the Bible as a public text and the challenges posed by holding to the Bible as the Word of God in a religiously diverse context The highly distinguished contributors include Ben Quash David Ferguson Angus Paddison and Zo Bennett The Ethics of Human Rights Esther D. Reed, 2007 In The Ethics of Human Rights Esther Reed constructs a Christian theology of right rights and natural rights and does so in constant awareness of and conversation with the public and political implications of such a theology Reed's use of Genesis 9 1 17 God's covenant with Noah enables her critical Christian engagement with issue of right and her application of this Christian theology of rights to the contemporary moral dilemmas of animal rights the environment and democracy Theology of Revelation Domenic Marbaniang, 2012-12-21 The book is a study of the theology of revelation in the writings of seven modern theologians viz Charles Hodge Karl Barth Emil Brunner Harold DeWolf Millard J Erickson J Rodman Williams and Donald G Bloesch It also includes a concluding chapter by the author on the theology of revelation An Introduction to Dogmatic Theology Revere Franklin Weidner, 1888 A Scientific Theology: Nature Alister E. McGrath, 2001 V 1 Nature v 2 Reality v 3 Theory Theology of Revelation Rene Latourelle, 2009-11-01 For fruitful discussion within the Church for a meaningful dialogue with other Christians for the renewal of the theology of preaching for these and many other reasons we need a new understanding of the nature of revelation The usual apologetical treatment of revelation bent on proving its existence touches but the fringe of the reality Our day and age needs a theology of revelation which probes the nature depths and dimensions of the mystery Father Latourelle's study is a significant contribution in this unfurrowed field and may well be recognized as a landmark for years to come His treatment of scriptural data on the notion of revelation is grounded on the advances of twentieth century exegesis He admirably handles the multifaceted Old Testament notion of revelation and his detailed study of the Synoptics Acts Paul and John heightens the point that the Old Testament's revelation foreshadowed the New and the New is only intelligible against the background of the Old His summary of the patristic idea of revelation is erudite and stimulating and probes the thoughts of twenty writers from the Apostolic Fathers to Augustine The richness of patristic insight contrasts sharply with later theological studies of the nature of revelation His study of the theological thought of the scholastic and neo scholastic schools is critical and informative Their approach culminated in overstressing the apologetical aspects of revelation a course which modern theology is abandoning to re discover a theology of revelation that is Christ centered Scriptural historical and interpersonal In treating of the magisterium the author presents a splendid analysis of official documents from Trent to Vatican II and his summary underscores the point that the Church documents present a view of revelation that closely resembles that of the biblical and patristic sources The author s personal reflections enable us to view many aspects of revelation in a new light He draws on the insights of modern linguistics to give a new dimension to revelation s traditional definition locutio Dei He elucidates the point that revelation is neither event alone nor word alone its structure is sacramental and consists of events interpreted by word In dealing with preaching miracles and other themes Father Latourelle combines wide erudition and lucidity and his work stands as a major contribution to modern theological thought

Instructions on the Revelation of St. John the Divine Cresswell Strange,1899 A Complete System of Christian Theology Samuel Wakefield,1869 The Joy of Hearing Thomas R. Schreiner,2021 Schreiner develops in short form the central theological themes in the book of Revelation He shows that in Revelation we see a vision of God Christ and the Holy Spirit We also see a vision of the world to come in which God will triumph over all his enemies and in which those who persevere will receive an eternal reward The apostle John writes so that readers will persevere in faith because he wants them to enjoy that world

Theology of Revelation Gabriel Moran,1966 Just as the Church s teaching on papal infallibility was balanced by the doctrine of episcopal collegiality so too the past overemphasis of theologians on the unquestioned objectivity and immutability of the deposit of faith has had to be balanced by an understanding of revelation as the ongoing communication of God to man Revelation is not some kind of static thing or a mere object it is rather what occurs in an encounter between persons and it therefore exists only as a personal reality Such is the thesis of this biblically rich and theologically penetrating study by the brilliant young theologian Gabriel Moran Influenced by modern personalist philosophies and sanctioned by the decree De Revelatione of the Second Vatican Council this book provides a welcome corrective to the onesided exaggerations of traditional manuals in which revelation was often seen as imply a compendium of truths It is his biblical perspective which allows the author to envision revelation as a personal communal and historical reality God reveals himself in the history of the Jewish people and finally in Christ who as the union of God and man is both God bestowing and man receiving revelation and because the risen Christ remains among his people revelation still continues Such a conception of revelation lets the Christian integrate the bible the liturgy and dogmatic formulations into a present and personal communication between God and man Moreover because of its emphasis on this communication as a continuing activity in the Church this conception of revelation gives new meaning and new direction to the work of the Church in the contemporary world Although Gabriel Moran s study is primarily a theological synthesis it is obvious that with such a scope and framework this is a book not only for theologians but for all those who must realize for themselves and explain to others the meaning of God's communion with man It is a book with profound doctrinal and pastoral implications Publisher
