The Fur Seals and Fur-seal Islands of the North Pacific Ocean David Starr Jordan, 1899 The Fur Seals and Fur-seal Islands of the North Pacific Ocean: v. 2 . Charts of the islands and fur-seal rookeries of St. Paul and St. George, Pribilof group, Alaska United States. Commission on Fur-Seal Investigations, 1899 Archaeologia, 1925 Fort St. Joseph Revealed Michael S. Nassaney, 2021-10-04 Fort St Joseph Revealed is the first synthesis of archaeological and documentary data on one of the most important French colonial outposts in the western Great Lakes region. Located in what is now Michigan, Fort St Joseph was home to a flourishing fur trade society from the 1680s to 1781. Material evidence of the site, lost for centuries, was discovered in 1998 by volume editor Michael Nassaney and his colleagues, who summarize their extensive excavations at the fort and surrounding areas in these essays. Contributors analyze material remains, including animal bones, lead seals, smudge pits, and various other detritus from daily life, to reconstruct the foodways, architectural traditions, crafts, trade, and hide processing methods of the fur trade. They discuss the complex relationship between the French traders and local Native populations, who relied on each other for survival and forged links across their communities through intermarriage and exchange, even as they maintained their own cultural identities. Faunal remains excavated at the site indicate the French quickly adopted Native cuisine, as they were unable to transport perishable goods across long distances. Copper kettles and other imported objects from Europe were transformed by Native Americans into decorative ornaments, such as tinkling cones, and French textiles served as a medium of stylistic expression in the multi-ethnic community that developed at Fort St Joseph. Featuring a thought-provoking look at the award-winning public archaeology program at the site, this volume will inspire researchers with the potential of community-based service learning initiatives to tap into the analytical power at the interface of history and archaeology.
