Citizens Without Shelter:

Citizens without Shelter Leonard C. Feldman, 2018-07-05 One of the most troubling aspects of the politics of homelessness Leonard C Feldman contends is the reduction of the homeless to what Hannah Arendt calls the abstract nakedness of humanity and what Giorgio Agamben terms bare life Feldman argues that the politics of alleged compassion and the politics of those interested in ridding public spaces of the homeless are linked fundamentally in their assumption that homeless people are something less than citizens Feldman's book brings political theories together including theories of sovereign power justice and pluralism with discussions of real world struggles and close analyses of legal cases concerning the rights of the homeless In Feldman's view the bare life predicament is a product not simply of poverty or inequality but of an inability to commit to democratic pluralism Challenging this reduction of the homeless Citizens without Shelter examines opportunities for contesting such a fundamental political exclusion in the service of homeless citizenship and a more robust form of democratic pluralism Feldman has in mind a truly democratic pluralism that would include a pluralization of the category of home to enable multiple forms of dwelling a recognition of the common dwelling activities of homeless and non homeless persons and a resistance to laws that punish or confine the homeless

The Future of Citizenship Jose V. Cipro, 2008 Contributors from a range of disciplines discuss the evolving meaning of citizenship and the possible future of a global citizenship by voluntary association The ongoing expansion in the field of citizenship studies is one of the most important and remarkable recent trends in social sciences and humanities research Some scholars raise questions about citizenship within a larger critique of liberalism and its institutions others point to citizenship's inherently exclusionary nature This volume examines without advocating any ideological agenda the evolving meaning of citizenship with an eye to the future The contributors writing from the perspectives of anthropology sociology psychology law history and other disciplines examine four modes of citizenship in comparative global context Differentiated Divided Dispersed and Deterritorialized The future of citizenship they argue may be a worldwide citizenship by association tantamount to a global civic interface
