Civil Penalties Social Consequences:

Civil Penalties, Social Consequences Christopher Mele, Teresa Miller, Teresa Ann Miller, 2005 Publisher Description

Progressive Black Masculinities Athena D. Mutua, 2006 In the struggle for pride and political agency the imperative to be a man has been central to the lives of black males Yet what it means to be a black man in terms of both racial and gender identity has been subject to continual debate in public and academic spheres alike Progressive Black Masculinities brings together leading black cultural critics including Michael Eric Dyson Mark Anthony Neal and Patricia Hill Collins to examine an alternatively demonized and mythologized black masculinity Collectively they offer a roadmap for new progressive models of black masculinity that may chart the course for the future of black men

The Colors of Poverty Ann Chih Lin, David R. Harris, 2008-08-14 Given the increasing diversity of the nation particularly with respect to its growing Hispanic and Asian populations why does racial and ethnic difference so often lead to disadvantage In The Colors of Poverty a multidisciplinary group of experts provides a breakthrough analysis of the complex mechanisms that connect poverty and race The Colors of Poverty reframes the debate over the causes of minority poverty by emphasizing the cumulative effects of disadvantage in perpetuating poverty across generations The contributors consider a kaleidoscope of factors that contribute to widening racial gaps including education racial discrimination social capital immigration and incarceration Mich le Lamont and Mario Small grapple with the theoretical ambiguities of existing cultural explanations for poverty disparities They argue that culture and structure are not competing explanations for poverty but rather collaborate to produce disparities Looking at how attitudes and beliefs exacerbate racial stratification social psychologist Heather Bullock links the rise of inequality in the United States to an increase in public tolerance for disparity She suggests that the American ethos of rugged individualism and meritocracy erodes support for antipoverty programs and reinforces the belief that people are responsible for their own poverty Sociologists Darren Wheelock and Christopher Uggen focus on the collateral consequences of incarceration in exacerbating racial disparities and are the first to propose a link between legislation that blocks former drug felons from obtaining federal aid for higher education and the black white educational attainment gap Joe Soss and Sanford Schram argue that the increasingly decentralized and discretionary nature of state welfare programs allows for different treatment of racial groups even when such policies are touted as race neutral They find that states with more blacks and Hispanics on welfare rolls are consistently more likely to impose lifetime limits caps on benefits for mothers with children and stricter sanctions The Colors of Poverty is a comprehensive and evocative introduction to the dynamics of race and inequality The research in this landmark volume moves scholarship on inequality beyond a simple black white paradigm beyond the search for a single cause of poverty and beyond the promise of one magic bullet solution A Volume in the National Poverty Center Series on Poverty and Public Policy

Doing Time Together Megan Comfort, 2009-05-15 By quadrupling the number of people behind bars in two decades the United States has become the world leader in incarceration Much has been written on the men who make up the vast majority of the nation's two million inmates. But what of the women they leave behind? Doing Time Together vividly details the ways that prisons shape and infiltrate the lives of women with husbands, fiancés, and boyfriends on the inside. Megan Comfort spent years getting to know women visiting men at San Quentin State Prison, observing how their romantic relationships drew them into contact with the penitentiary. Tangling with the prison's intrusive scrutiny and rigid rules turns these women into quasi-inmates, eroding the boundary between home and prison and altering their sense of intimacy, love, and justice. Yet Comfort also finds that with social welfare weakened, prisons are the most powerful public institutions available to women struggling to overcome untreated social ills and sustain relationships with marginalized men. As a result, they express great ambivalence about the prison and the control it exerts over their daily lives. An illuminating analysis of women caught in the shadow of America's massive prison system, Comfort's book will be essential for anyone concerned with the consequences of our punitive culture. Clearinghouse Review, 2006 Asian Journal of Social Science, 2007 George Mason University Law Review, 1986 Immigration, Integration, and Security Ariane Chebel d'Appollonia, Simon Reich, 2008. Recent acts of terrorism in Britain and Europe and the events of 9/11 in the United States have greatly influenced immigration security and integration policies in these countries. Yet many of the current practices surrounding these issues were developed decades ago and are ill-suited to the dynamics of today's global economies and immigration patterns. The contributors compare policies on these issues at three relational levels: between individual EU nations and the U.S.; between the EU and U.S.; and among EU nations. What emerges is a timely and critical examination of the variations and contradictions in policy at each level of interaction and how different agencies and different nations often work in opposition to each other with self-defeating results. Battleground Immigration Judith Ann Warner, 2009. A-Z entries explore the most critical debates surrounding immigration in the U.S. today. The Corsini Encyclopedia of Psychology and Behavioral Science, Volume 1 W. Edward Craighead, Charles B. Nemeroff, 2001. Encyclopedia Battleground Immigration: M-Z Judith Ann Warner, 2009. A-Z entries explore the most critical debates surrounding immigration in the U.S. today. Organizations and Sanctions Malcolm D. Schlusberg, 1979 The Writers Directory, 2013 The New Jersey Register, 1994 An Essay on the Principles of Circumstantial Evidence William Wills, 1881 New Jersey Register, 2009 Changing Cultural Practices Anthony Biglan, 1995. A research-driven approach to investigating and effecting social change from a contextual psychological point of view, this book argues for a conceptualization of basic human problems in public health terms. General Science Quarterly, 1920 Canadian Journal of Psychiatry, 2006 Studies in the Law of Torts Francis Hermann Bohlen, 1926
