Beyond the Pleasure Principle Sigmund Freud, 2011-03-02 Beyond the Pleasure Principle is Freud's most philosophical and speculative work exploring profound questions of life and death, pleasure and pain. In it, Freud introduces the fundamental concepts of the repetition compulsion and the death drive, according to which a perverse, repetitive, self-destructive impulse opposes and even trumps the creative drive or Eros. The work is one of Freud's most intensely debated and raises important questions that have been discussed by philosophers and psychoanalysts since its first publication in 1920. The text is presented here in a contemporary new translation by Gregory C. Richter. Appendices trace the work's antecedents and the many responses to it, including texts by Plato, Friedrich Nietzsche, Melanie Klein, Herbert Marcuse, Jacques Derrida, and Judith Butler among many others.

The Man in the Yellow Hat Dorothy W. Martyn, 1992

Psychotherapist Dorothy W. Martyn reverses the way in which psychoanalytic psychology and Christian theology have usually been related to one another. With few exceptions, priority has been granted to psychology; infantile needs and wishes spawn religious ideas from one's life experience; one can proceed to an understanding of God. Tracing the therapeutic journeys of three children, Martyn finds crucial illumination in the insights of Freud, Jung, Winnicott, Klein, and others. But she sees the power that evokes emotional growth in the therapeutic relationship as deriving from motifs of Christian theology that deepen our understanding of authentic parental love.
