Ancestral Landscape:

Ancestral Landscapes of the Pueblo World James Elliot Snead, 2008 The eastern Pueblo heartland located in the northern Rio Grande country of New Mexico has fascinated archaeologists since the 1870s In Ancestral Landscapes of the Pueblo World James Snead uses an exciting new approach landscape archaeology to understand ancestral Pueblo communities and the way the people consciously or unconsciously shaped the land around them Snead provides detailed insight into ancestral Puebloan cultures and societies using an approach he calls contextual experience employing deep mapping and community scale analysis This strategy goes far beyond the standard archaeological approaches using historical ethnography and contemporary Puebloan perspectives to better understand how past and present Pueblo worldviews and meanings are imbedded in the land Snead focuses on five communities in the Pueblo heartland Burnt Corn T obimpaenge Tsikwaiye Los Aguajes and Tsankawi using the results of intensive archaeological surveys to discuss the changes that occurred in these communities between AD 1250 and 1500 He examines the history of each area comparing and contrasting them via the themes of provision identity and movement before turning to questions regarding social political and economic organization This revolutionary study thus makes an important contribution to landscape archaeology and explains how the Precolumbian Pueblo landscape was formed

Personal Dreamscape as Ancestral Landscape Karen Ann Jaenke, 2000
The Land of Gold Judith M. Bovensiepen, 2018-08-06 In the village of Funar located in the central highlands of Timor Leste the disturbing events of the twenty four year long Indonesian occupation are rarely articulated in narratives of suffering Instead the highlanders emphasize the significance of their return to the sacred land of the ancestors a place where gold is abundant and life is thought to originate On one hand this collective amnesia is due to villagers exclusion from contemporary nation building processes which bestow recognition only on those who actively participated in the resistance struggle against Indonesia On the other hand the cultural revival and the privileging of the ancestral landscape and traditions over narratives of suffering derive from a particular understanding of how human subjects are constituted Before life and after death humans and the land are composed of the same substance only during life are they separated To recover from the forced dislocation the highlanders experienced under the Indonesian occupation they thus seek to reestablish a mythical primordial unity with the land by reinvigorating ancestral practices Never leaving out of sight the intense political and emotional dilemmas imposed by the past on people s daily lives The Land of Gold seeks to go beyond prevailing theories of postconflict reconstruction that prioritize human relationships Instead it explores the significance of people s affective and ritual engagement with the environment and with their ancestors as survivors come to terms with the disruptive events of the past landscape It integrates philosophical approaches to landscape perception with anthropological studies of the significance of the landscape in small scale societies This perspective is used to examine the relationship between prehistoric sites and their topographic settings The author argues that the architecture of Neolithic stone tombs acts as a kind of camera lens focussing attention on landscape features such as rock outcrops river valleys mountain spurs in their immediate surroundings These monuments played an active role in socializing the landscape and creating meaning in it A Phenomenology of Landscape is unusual in that it links two types of publishing which have remained distinct in archaeology books with atmospheric photographs of monuments with a minimum of text and no interpretation and the academic text in which words provide a substitute for visual imagery Attractively illustrated with many photographs and diagrams it will appeal to anyone interested in prehistoric monuments and landscape as well as students and specialists in archaeology anthropology and human geography Reception perception and interpretation are key to understanding landscapes This book provides a useful starting point for comprehension of these topics Dr Stuart Prior University of Bristol Art from the Land Howard Morphy, Margo Smith Boles, 1999 The art of Aboriginal Australia gives tangible expression to a particular way of being in the land The Kluge Ruhe Collection now held by the University of Virginia in Charlottesville is one of the largest and best documented collections of Australian Aboriginal art outside Australia Art from the Land focuses on the desert region and Arnhem Land drawing on the many fine works in the collection and on the authors detailed knowledge of the artists and their communities to illustrate the unique and complex nature of Australian Aboriginal artistic expression Grounding Knowledge/walking Land Christopher Evans, Yarjung Kromchai Tamu, Judith Pettigrew, Mark Turin, 2009 Tracking knowledge down to ground concerned with trail based archaeology journeys and histories this is a volume of both firsts and thick context At face value it documents almost a decade of groundbreaking investigations within the Annapurna highlands of Nepal Including survey recording of fort and settlement sites from the outset the projects focus was the extraordinary ruins of Kohla Sombre Kohla The Three Villages the ancestral settlement of the Tami mai Gurung community who hosted and instigated the fieldwork programme Ultimately only a single seasons excavation was conducted before the project was cut short by the political insurgency within the country It concluded with holding a great shamans meeting in Pokhara in 2002 at which their historical oral texts were presented Narrating the long migration of the Tamu mai into the region and down from a distant north the present volume includes the full translation of one of these oral epics the Lemako Roh Pye The project represents a unique collaboration between archaeologists anthropologists and a shaman Including interviews with upland inhabitants the volume encompasses the diverse voices of both its immediate participants and the local community Fulsome in its presentation of the archaeological data and rich in ethnographic source material not only is this book crucial for Himalayan culture studies generally but also relevant for any concerned with the construction and context of the past in the present and the active forging of ethno historical identities
