Ancient Akamas:

Ancient Akamas: Settlement and environment Jane Fejfer, 1995 This study is the first of two volumes describing the history and development of the Akamas Peninsula in Northwestern Cyprus during the Roman and early Byzantine period based on studies carried out by the Danish Akamas Project during the years 1989-1994 This volume includes inventories of literary and cartographic sources a survey of the ancient road system and a full report on underwater excavations in the Roman harbour at Kioni on the west coast of the peninsula The book contains contributions from Tonnes Bekker Nielsen Peter Crabb Lise Hannestad Niels Hannestad Peter P Hayes Jan Heinemeyer John Leonard and Ole Thomsen Ancient Akamas Jane Fejfer, 2005-12-01 This study is the second of two volumes describing the history and development of the Akamas Peninsula in Northwestern Cyprus during the Roman and early Byzantine period based on studies carried out by the Danish Akamas Project during the years 1989-1994 The team of scholars designed an interdisciplinary study of a Roman province in the eastern part of the empire emphasizing the late Roman and early Byzantine periods The book takes up crucial issues surrounding the Danish excavation at Ayios Kononas and also contains a section on the implications of the differing methods in archaeology and the reliability of using surveys for landscapes versus excavations for settlements The scholars discuss the effect on this peripheral region of the large events which unfolded in the Eastern Mediterranean the turbulent history of Cyprus the rise of Christianity and the Arab invasions Evidence from the architectural remains of four house complexes and the Christian basilica c600 AD is complemented by surveys in the adjacent landscape Ancient Akamas, 1995 Recent Research on the Late Antique Countryside William Bowden, Luke Lavan, Carlos Machado, 2004 A complex picture of differing regional trajectories emerges whilst cultural change is everywhere apparent in phenomena such as Christianisation settlement nucleation and fortification BOOK JACKET Ancient Akamas I: Settlement and Environment Jane Fejfer, 1995 Mythology & Monuments of Ancient Athens Pausanias, Margaret de Gaudrion Merrifield Verrall, 1890 The introductory essay and archaeological commentary are by far the greater part of the work The translation appears in small sections each followed by its own commentary well provided with illustrations Mythology and Monuments of Ancient Athens Being a Translation of a Portion of The, Attica of Pausanias, 1890 Mythology and monuments of ancient Athens Jane Ellen Harrison, 1890 Urbanism in Antiquity Walter Emanuel Aufrecht, Neil Arnold Mirau, Steven W. Antiquity Sean A. Kingsley, Michael Decker, 2015-05-01 The results of recent archaeological excavation systematic rural survey and detailed studies of pottery distributions have revealed the extent and complexities of the economy in the eastern empire The eight papers in this volume demonstrate this complexity and prosperity examining several types of product and how the economy evolved over time Contents New Rome new theories on Inter regional exchange East Mediterranean economy in Late Antiquity Sean Kingsley and Michael Decker Urban Economies of Late Antique Cyrenaica Andrew Wilson The economic impact of the Palestinian wine trade in Late Antiquity Sean Kingsley Food for an empire wine and oil production in North Syria Michael Decker Beyond the amphora non ceramic evidence for Late Antique industry and trade Marlia Mundell Mango The economy of Late Antique Cyprus Tassos Papacostas LR2 a container for the military annona on the Danubian border Olga Karagiorgou Specialization trade and prosperity an overview of the economy of the Late Antique Eastern Mediterranean Bryan Ward Perkins Cyprus between Late Antiquity and the Early Middle Ages (ca. 600-800)

Luca Zavagno, 2017-05-18 Research on early medieval Cyprus has focused on the late antique golden age late fourth early fifth to seventh century and the so called Byzantine Reconquista post AD 965 while overlooking the intervening period This phase was characterized supposedly by the division of the political sovereignty between the Umayyads and the Byzantines bringing about the social and demographic dislocation of the population of the island This book proposes a different story of continuities and slow transformations in the fate of Cyprus between the late sixth and the early ninth centuries Analysis of new archaeological evidence shows signs of a continuing link to Constantinople Moreover together with a reassessment of the literary evidence archaeology and material culture help us to reappraise the impact of Arab naval raids and contextualize the confrontational episodes throughout the ebb and flow of Eastern Mediterranean history the political influence of the Caliphate looked stronger in the second half of the seventh century the administrative and ecclesiastical influence of the Byzantine empire was held sway from the beginning of the eighth to the twelfth century Whereas the island retained sound commercial ties with the Umayyad Levant in the seventh and eighth centuries at the same time politically and economically it remained part of the Byzantine sphere This belies the idea of Cyprus as an independent province only loosely tied to Constantinople and allows us to draw a different picture of the cultural identities political practices and hierarchy of wealth and power in Cyprus during the passage from Late Antiquity to the early Middle Ages A Study of the Circulation of Ceramics in Cyprus from the 3rd Century BC to the 3rd Century AD John Lund, 2015-10-26 This is the first monograph devoted solely to the ceramics of Cyprus in the Hellenistic and Roman Periods The island was by then no longer divided into kingdoms but unified politically first under Ptolemaic Egypt and later as a province in the Roman Empire Submission to foreign rule was previously thought to have diluted if not obliterated the time honoured distinctive Cypriot character The ceramic evidence suggests otherwise The distribution of local and imported pottery in Cyprus points to the existence of several regional exchange networks a division that also seems reflected by other evidence The similarities in material culture exchange patterns and preferential practices are suggestive of a certain level of regional collective self awareness From the 1st century BC onwards Cyprus became increasingly engulfed by mass produced and standardized ceramic fine wares which seem ultimately to have put many of the indigenous makers of similar products out of business or forced them to modify their output Also the ceramic record gradually became less diverse during the Roman Period than before developments which we today might be inclined to view as symptoms of an early form of globalisation

The Transport Amphorae and Trade of Cyprus Mark L. Lawall, John Lund, 2013-12-31 Placed as a stepping stone on the sea route between Europe and the New East Cyprus has always been a meeting place of many cultures Though rarely united politically through many millennia of history and for extended periods subject to foreign rule the island nonetheless managed to maintain specific and unique identities This publication seeks to throw new light on important aspects of the economy of Cyprus between c 700 BC and AD 700 through a concerted study of the transport amphorae found in and around the island These standardised containers of fired clay were commonly used for shipping foodstuffs from their places of production to the consumers in antiquity Completely preserved or found only in fragments such vessels are a prime source of information about the island s exports and imports of agricultural products and ultimately about the fluctuations in the economy of Cyprus through a crucial millennium and a half of her history The jars thus contribute both to our understanding of the changing intensities of Cypriot connections with other centres around the Mediterranean and to the documentation of regional patterning within the island itself
