Developmental Neurocognition B. De Boysson-Bardies, Scania de Schonen, Peter Jusczyk, Peter MacNeilage, John Morton, 2013-03-09 This volume contains the proceedings of a NATO Advanced Research Workshop ARW on the topic of Changes in Speech and Face Processing in Infancy A glimpse at Developmental Mechanisms of Cognition which was held in Carry le Rouet France at the Vacanciel La Calanque from June 29 to July 3 1992 For many years developmental researchers have been systematically exploring what is concealed by the blooming and buzzing confusion as William James described the infant s world Much research has been carried out on the mechanisms by which organisms recognize and relate to their conspecifics in particular with respect to language acquisition and face recognition Given this background it seems worthwhile to compare not only the conceptual advances made in these two domains but also the methodological difficulties faced in each of them In both domains there is evidence of sophisticated abilities right from birth Similarly researchers in these domains have focused on whether the mechanisms underlying these early competences are modality specific object specific or otherwise

Developmental Cognitive Neuroscience Mark H. Johnson, 2010-10-18 The third edition of Developmental Cognitive Neuroscience presents a thorough updating and enhancement of the classic text that introduced the rapidly expanding field of developmental cognitive neuroscience Includes the addition of two new chapters that provide further introductory material on new methodologies and the application of genetic methods in cognitive development Includes several key discussion points at the end of each chapter Features a greater focus on mid childhood and adolescence to complement the previous edition s emphasis on early childhood Brings the science closer to real world applications via a greater focus on fieldwork Includes a greater emphasis on structural and functional brain imaging
