Current Societal Concerns about Justice Leo Montada, Melvin J. Lerner, 2013-06-29 What role does justice play in the formation of public opinion and the scholarly debates about social problems Does the perception of injustice force problems to appear on the political agenda Does the perception of an injustice give momentum to social change Or are violations of self interest or threats to one's material welfare the more important factors Or are empathy driven concerns for the needy and the disadvantaged motivations to solve societal problems What is known about the role justice concerns play in leadership In several chapters of this volume justice concerns and justice motives are viewed in relation to other concerns and motivations welfare self interest altruism It is argued that the consensus of political theorists converges on mutual advantage as the main criterion of acceptable solutions to solving societal problems In economics self interest is considered the driving force and provides the criterion of acceptable solutions Sociological and social psychological exchange theories share these basic assumptions Thus questions are raised and answered concerning how justice and these other important motives appear in the analyses of societal problems and the search for solutions Moreover in addition to the issue of conflicting motives self interest altruism justice it is commonly recognized that the definition of what is just and what is unjust is open to question In public as well as in scientific dialogues diverging views about justice have to be integrated or decided upon

Current Societal Concerns about Justice Leo Montada, Melvin J. Lerner, 1996-10-31 What role does justice play in the formation of public opinion and the scholarly debates about contemporary societal problems This insightful volume explores this question in its examination of such issues as protection of natural ecology and resources gender inequalities mass unemployment and the intergenerational contract Important chapters discuss the conflict between justice concerns and motives and other motivations including the common welfare self interest and altruism The book features problem sets that focus on how justice motives can be used to define and solve social issues

Journal of Current Social Issues, 1971 Social Justice Parenting Traci Baxley, 2021-10-19 Social Justice Parenting offers guidance and grace for parents who want to teach their children how to create a fair and inclusive world Diane Debrovner deputy editor of Parents magazine Replete with excellent examples and advice that can help parents raise children with a healthy self image and regard for the welfare of others Jane E Brody New York Times An empowering timely guide to raising anti racist compassionate and socially conscious children from a diversity and inclusion educator with more than thirty years of experience As a global pandemic shuttered schools across the country in 2020 parents found themselves thrust into the role of teacher in more ways than one Not only did they take on remote school supervision but after the murder of George Floyd and the ensuing Black Lives Matter protests many also grappled with the responsibility to teach their kids about social justice with few resources to guide them Now in Social Justice Parenting Dr Traci Baxley a professor of education who has spent 30 years teaching diversity and inclusion will offer the essential guidance and curriculum parents have been searching for Dr Baxley a mother of five herself suggests that parenting is a form of activism and encourages parents to acknowledge their influence in developing compassionate socially conscious kids Importantly Dr Baxley also guides parents to do the work of recognizing and reconciling their own biases So often she suggests parents make choices based on what s best for their children versus what s best for all children in their community Dr Baxley helps readers take inventory of their actions and beliefs develop self awareness and accountability and become role models Poised to become essential reading for all parents committed to social change Social Justice Parenting will offer parents everywhere the opportunity to nurture a future generation of humane compassionate individuals
