Laboratory Schedule

Since the semester begins, you will have the lab time you have already used with all of the other classes that you are taking. The laboratory activities and procedures are designed to progress from fundamental to more advanced laboratory. Most of the experiments have been scheduled so that the average student can finish a working portfolio in the laboratory period. However, you will notice that within the experiments there are not proposed extra activities in the laboratory. It was expected that students who complete lab part 1A had sufficient available time to do these activities.

It is suggested that you do the following activities:

1. Review the Department's website at www.chem.uab.edu and complete the pre-lab assignment for your first lab.
2. Read the recommended textbook for the assignment and complete the lab notebook.
3. Read the Pre-Lab 1 assignment and bring it to the lab.
4. Complete the assignment and discuss the results with the lab group.
5. Review your portfolio for your first lab and complete the lab notebook.
6. Complete the assignment for your first lab.
7. Prepare your lab report assignment for your first lab and complete the lab notebook.
8. Through all of the lab work you should complete assignments on the "Preparing for the Experiment" page of the lab notebook when preparing for the lab. It is better that you have prepared through the week.
