

Acid and Base Strength Worksheet

Name _____

Period _____ Date _____

What makes an acid acidic are the *excess hydrogen ions (H^+) that these substances cause in a water solution.

Strong acids, like HCl, dissociate (break up) completely in solution, giving a maximum number of hydrogen ions. Another way to say this is, strong acids IONIZE completely while weak acids don't.

So, how do you know which acids are strong and which are weak?
Easy; there are a few rules.

First, a few definitions:

- A binary acid is made of two elements: hydrogen and something else. HCl is a binary acid made of hydrogen and chloride. Count 'em. Hydrogen (one), chloride (two). Ta-da!
- A ternary acid is made of more than two elements: hydrogen and at least two other elements. H_2SO_4 , with three elements, is a ternary acid. So is H_3PO_4 and acetic acid, $HC_2H_3O_2$. (Notice acid formulas always start with a hydrogen. These are the hydrogens that can break free in water to a lesser or greater degree depending on the strength of the acid.)

THE RULES for deciding if an acid is strong or weak!

- The only strong binary acids are HCl, HBr, and HI. (Notice Cl, Br, and I are together on the periodic table.) All other binary acids are weak.
- Ternary acids are a little trickier, but not much. Compare the number of oxygens and hydrogens in the formula. If the number of oxygens exceeds the number of hydrogens by 2 or more, the acid is strong. All other ternary acids are weak.

H_3PO_4 3 hydrogens and 4 oxygens (only one more oxygen than hydrogen). WEAK

H_2SO_4 2 hydrogens and 4 oxygens (two more oxygens than hydrogen). STRONG.

*Technically, the free H^+ usually combines with a water molecule to form a hydronium ion (H_3O^+), but we will ignore this for the time being.
