Gilbert Léon Étienne Théodore RENAULT-ROULIER,Richmond HILL,1959      The Cross of Christ in African American Christian Religious Experience Demetrius K. Williams,2023-10-03 In The Cross of Christ in African American Christian Religious Experience Piety Politics and Protest Demetrius K Williams examines and explores the ideational importance and rhetorical function of cross language and terminology in Black religious experience through an ideological lens Williams argues that for the first time in Christian history the European nation of Portugal under the guidance of Prince Henry used the theology of the cross to justify and sustain an exclusive trade of Sub Saharan African peoples Claiming that Jesus died on the cross only to save lost souls provided a convincing rational for Henry s exploratory voyages of discovery to West African to exclusively enslave Black bodies With the confirmation of Catholic Popes and the competition of other European nations this same rationale would inspire empire building colonization and slave trading justified on their newly constructed ideological narrative of compassionate evangelism to save lost souls Over time with massive conversions to the faith of their enslavers Black people s Christian religious experiences would articulate a response to the world that held them in thralldom That response would be articulated most consistently and effectively through their understanding of the cross of Christ Williams affirms Howard Thurman s claim that by some amazing but vastly creative spiritual insight the slave undertook the redemption of a religion that the master had profaned in his midst      Prince Henry 'the Navigator' Peter Edward Russell,2001-01-01 Studie over de centrale rol die prins Hendrik de Zeevaarder 1394 1460 speelde bij de eerste Portugese ontdekkingsreizen      Long-ships from the beginning of the Christian era to end of the Crusades John Forsyth Meigs,1924      Ships of the Seven Seas Hawthorne Daniel,1925      Traders and Explorers in Wooden Ships: Muslims in the Age of Exploration Susan Douglass,1995-01-01 This unit is offered to upper elementary students as an introductory chapter to their first comprehensive study of American history It may also be used as an adjunct to study of the European Age of Exploration in world history courses for upper elementary and middle school grades It can be used as a supplement to or substitute for the textbook chapter which discusses America s origins in the Old World It provides background for the period in which Europe reached out across the globe for the first time This treatment attempts to go beyond the heroism and adventure stories about the Age of Exploration Most textbook treatments of the period utterly fail to place Europe in the context of its cultural and technological development relative to other civilizations This unit shows how the Islamic lands formed a hinge between East and West It investigates the major motivations and development of the technological means for exploration It goes beyond the stereotyped image of conflict between Christians and Muslims to explain the fruitful cultural exchange which occurred

over the centuries It demonstrates how the cosmopolitan character of the Islamic civilization united the Old World in interdependence contributing to Europe s later technological scientific cultural and economic achievements Finally the unit shows how all technological and historic advances in human civilization are cumulative efforts to which many peoples have made important contributions
