Stones, 2001 South Africa is a society that sadly has been divided against itself even at the best of times Beginning with the initial advent of colonialism on the southern tip of the African continent through to the later spawning of apartheid as well as in its nascent democracy divisions have continually been manifest in varying form and content along racial ethnic class religious language political or other socio economic and cultural lines Unlike most societies South Africa is a natural laboratory for psycho social research yet it has been foreign researchers who have conducted most of the behavioural studies on the human condition in the country South African psychologists seem to have steered clear of involvement in researching any major policy impact especially in recent times when the re shaping of South African society has been at its height Each of the authors in this book is South African and appropriately has lived through the transition in South Africa and has attempted to understand the changes at both professional and personal levels The contributors were each asked to write a chapter that would explore the South African socio political terrain from within their fields of expertise and so help others navigate the uncharted future with less trepidation The Career Development Quarterly ,1998 Growing up in Times of Social Change Rainer K. Silbereisen,Alexander von Eye,2012-05-24 No detailed description available for Growing up in Times of Social Change Handbook of Career Counseling Theory and Practice Mark Savickas,1996 This landmark book provides the latest thinking among the leading figures in career counseling psychology on theoretical issues and their practical applications Twenty eight contributions address the integration of career counseling theory and practice how major counseling theories are proving useful in career intervention the use of career assessment instruments and new directions in theory and practice Exploring New Horizons in Career Counselling Kobus Maree,Annamaria Di Fabio,2015-11-03 This book brings together eminent global theorists and practitioners to share their views on the evolution of career counselling in recent decades Multiple changes of a fundamental and complex nature as well as related challenges in the world of work have necessitated career counselling to undergo such an evolution The authors examine the future nature and scope of new directions in the field of career counselling psychology and they critically reflect on as well as promote the predominant theoretical and conceptual framework of the field of career counselling The latest models and methods in and for the 21st century are explored and teased out including Mark Savickas proposal to shift the focus in interventions from conceptualising the self as content to seeing the self as a process This approach is in keeping with the notion of career as a story and consistent with leading theories such as Jean Guichard s self construction framework and the life design paradigm The authors deliver an avant garde text that is easy to read and use without diluting the conceptual and terminological complexities of the field The book is an invaluable resource for new emerging and experienced researchers academics scholars researchers psychologists social workers teachers and clients It merges what is known about the field with emerging approaches It gives an overview of theoretical paradigms that can be applied to a changing world of work It makes a critical analysis of germane questions such as What does the future hold for the field of career counselling and how can challenges be turned into opportunities and How can different paradigms approaches and strategies be harnessed to promote clients career life wellbeing and resilience It facilitates an understanding of the skills necessary to deal with career related transitions challenges and barriers to help people acquire transferable career life skills and career choice readiness It examines the importance of career adaptability and how people can develop this vital 21st century survival competency It challenges career counsellors to grasp and acquire skills to promote and advocate social justice agendas It promotes and demonstrates the exciting and promising notion of dialogue writing to enhance the dialogical work of the career counsellor and client Individually and collectively the authors team up to blend retrospect and prospect and they make a concerted effort to convert 21st century challenges and frontiers in career counselling into opportunities hurt into hope hopelessness into inspiration Journal of Career Development ,1993 A Counseling Primer Mary H. Guindon,2011-01-19 A

Counseling Primer presents an introduction to the counseling profession that provides students with a foundation for success. This engaging and accessible text covers the core CACREP Standard of Professional Orientation with a comprehensive overview of the field. It anticipates the questions of beginning students with a series of chapters that ask who counselors and clients are, what counseling is, when and where it is practiced, and why counselors choose the profession. It introduces students to the basics of essential attending and listening skills, challenges readers with case vignettes and discussion questions, encourages self-reflection, and offers skills for observation of others. It supports student learning with extensive pedagogical features and resources, enhances the reading experience with a robust online instructor's manual. This engaging textbook is full of useful features to enhance the learning experience. Each chapter includes points to ponder, case examples, an in-practice vignette with discussion questions, and a chapter summary. A self-reflection journaling exercise, termed the TFAC Chart (Thoughts, Feelings, Actions, Context), reinforces the material from each chapter and facilitates student growth. A Counseling Primer: An Introduction to the Profession is accompanied by a rich array of supplementary materials that are made available to qualifying adopters and their students completely free of charge. Our online resources are hosted on the Moodle course management system. Instructor Resources include a sample course syllabus, chapter-by-chapter PowerPoint lecture slides, chapter-by-chapter Instructor Notes including chapter summary, learning objectives, and instructions for suggested in-class activities and assignments, an interactive test bank for each chapter including multiple-choice, true or false, and essay question formats. The tests and notes are available for download by instructors in a variety of useful formats to suit your needs. Student Materials include TFAC Thoughts, Feelings, Actions, and Context Journaling forms for self-reflection, class handouts for assigned and optional review activities.
