Andy Mendlowitz,2007-11-12 When American sportswriter Andy Mendlowitz took a summer vacation to Ireland his itinerary included visiting medieval castles and drinking dark beer He soon discovered a world where big time sports aren't yet a business but still a game Ireland's rough and tumble pastimes of hurling and Gaelic football attract crowds of up to 80 000 fans a contest The high profile players though are amateurs They train as professionals but must work fulltime jobs to pay the bills The Gaelic Athletic Association GAA also lacks free agency or trades you simply play for your hometown team even if you move away Amazed by this concept and burned out at work Mendlowitz quit his job and moved to Ireland for eight months His aim was to get excited again by understanding what drives these athletes Along the way he met interesting characters and learned how the sports intersect with the ancient Irish language burgeoning economy and the Troubles in Northern Ireland From big cities like Belfast Dublin and Cork to tiny rural parishes Mendlowitz paints a vivid picture of Ireland and the joy of competing Irish Pedigrees John O'Hart,1888 The Irish Homestead ,1911 Basic Guide to Oral Health Education and Promotion Simon H. governance and agri food analysis and that theories about supply chain functioning including the part played by major retailers and civil society should be modified by a more nuanced understanding of the role of standards and certification systems Although much of the focus is on the UK and Europe this book provides key lessons internationally for the governance of seafood and other agri food supply chains The book will be of interest to students of food policy and those working in the seafood industry or studying for connected qualifications and more widely to readers with an interest in seafood issues and problems
