guide for practitioners seeking to hone the way they show up in citizen space At a time when public trust in institutions is at its lowest expectations of those institutions to make people well knowledgeable and secure are rapidly increasing These expectations are unrealistic causing disenchantment and disengagement among citizens and increasing levels of burnout among many professionals Rekindling Democracy is not just a practical guide it goes further in setting out a manifesto for a more equitable social contract to address these issues Rekindling Democracy argues convincingly that industrialized countries are suffering through a democratic inversion where the doctor is assumed to be the primary producer of health the teacher of education the police officer of safety and the politician of democracy Through just the right blend of storytelling research and original ideas Russell argues instead that in a functioning democracy the role of the professionals ought to be defined as that which happens after the important work of citizens is done The primary role of the twenty first century practitioner therefore is not a deliverer of top down services but a precipitator of more active citizenship and community
