Cardinal Cuisine:

Niccolò Ridolfi and the Cardinal's Court Lucinda Byatt, 2022-08-29 Niccolò Ridolfi 1501-50 was a Florentine cardinal, nephew and cousin to the Medici popes Leo X and Clement VII and he owed his status and wealth to their patronage. He remained actively engaged in Florentine politics above all during the years of crisis that saw the Florentine state change from republic to duchy. A widely respected patron and scholar throughout his life, his sudden death during the conclave of 1549 led to allegations of poison that an autopsy appears to confirm. This book examines Cardinal Ridolfi and his court in order to understand the extent to which cardinalate courts played a key part in Rome's resurgence and acted as hubs of knowledge located on the fault lines of politics and reform in church and state, hospitable spaces that can be analysed in the context of entanglements in Florentine and Roman cultural and political patronage and intersections between the princely court and a more professional and complex knowledge and practice of household management in the consumer and service economy of early modern Rome. Based on an array of archival sources and on three treatises whose authors were closely linked to Ridolfi's court, this monograph explores these multidisciplinary intersections to allow the more traditional fields of church and political history to be approached from different angles. Niccolò Ridolfi and the Cardinal's Court will appeal to all those interested in the organisation of these elite establishments and their place in sixteenth-century Roman society, the life and patronage of Niccolò Ridolfi in the context of the Florentine exiles who desired a return to republicanism and the history of the Roman Catholic Church.

 United States. Department of Agriculture,1907 The Financialization of Agri-Food Systems Hilde Bjorkhaug,André Magnan,Geoffrey Lawrence,2018-10-09 Financialization is the increased influence of financial actors and logics on social and economic life and is one of the key drivers transforming food systems and rural economies around the world The premise of this book is that the actions of financial actors and their financial logics are transforming agri food systems in profound ways It is shown that although financialization is a powerful dynamic some recent developments suggest that the rollout of financialization is contradictory and uneven in different spaces and markets The book examines cases in which state regulation or re regulation and social movement resistance are setting roadblocks or speed bumps in the path of financialization resulting in a cooling off of investment as well as the other side of the argument where there is evidence of a heating up The authors address not only the limits to financialization but also the mechanisms through which financial entities are able to penetrate and re shape agri food industries This book provides both a comparative analysis of financialization blending and empirical findings with conceptual insights It explores the connection between financialization food systems and rural transformation by critically examining the concept of financialization and how food and farming are being financialized the impacts of financialization in the food industry and financialization in farming and forestry along with the impacts this has on rural people and communities This is a timely book bringing together concrete case studies from around the globe to reveal the operations and impacts of finance capital in the space of agri food Report, Returns and
