READING COMPREHENSION WORKSHEET

Fill in the blank with the correct word or phrase. 61. The equation that relates force, mass, and acceleration is $F = ma$. 62. When multiple forces act on the same object, their net force is the sum of all the forces. 63. The forces that oppose motion between two surfaces in contact are friction. 64. The intensity of a force must multiply an object's mass to find its acceleration. 65. A force that causes an object to change its velocity is called net force. Draw lines to match each term on the left with the definition on the right. 66. Match the force with its description. a. Mass b. Acceleration c. Velocity d. Force 67. Mass is a measure of an object's resistance to acceleration. 68. Acceleration is the rate of change of velocity. 69. Velocity is the rate of change of position. 70. Force is a push or pull on an object.	Match each statement as True or False. 71. In net force, mass is directly proportional to acceleration. True 72. If the net force on an object is zero, it is at rest. True 73. If the net force on an object is not zero, it is accelerating. True 74. Mass is a measure of an object's resistance to acceleration. True 75. Acceleration is the rate of change of velocity. True 76. Velocity is the rate of change of position. True 77. Force is a push or pull on an object. True 78. Mass is a measure of an object's resistance to acceleration. True 79. Acceleration is the rate of change of velocity. True 80. Velocity is the rate of change of position. True 81. Force is a push or pull on an object. True 82. Mass is a measure of an object's resistance to acceleration. True 83. Acceleration is the rate of change of velocity. True 84. Velocity is the rate of change of position. True 85. Force is a push or pull on an object. True	6. What happens when the net force on an object is not zero? a. The object changes direction. b. The object starts moving. c. The object accelerates. d. The object maintains constant velocity or is at rest. 7. What if the following systems that the net force is not zero? a. A car accelerating from a stop. b. A car braking to a stop. c. A car moving at a constant speed. d. A car moving at a constant speed. 8. What force does not directly affect the acceleration of an object? a. The object's mass. b. The object's velocity. c. The object's acceleration. d. The object's position. 9. What happens when the net force on an object is not zero? a. The object changes direction. b. The object starts moving. c. The object accelerates. d. The object maintains constant velocity or is at rest. 10. What happens when the net force on an object is not zero? a. The object changes direction. b. The object starts moving. c. The object accelerates. d. The object maintains constant velocity or is at rest.	Forces and Motion Read the passage carefully before answering the questions that follow. There are different ways that forces can act on an object. When multiple forces act on an object, they combine together to create a net force, which determines whether the object speeds up, slows down, or changes direction. Understanding how forces work is essential to explaining everyday phenomena, from a person walking to a rocket launching into space. It explains the relationship between force, mass, and acceleration in a way that is easy to understand. Newton's second law, which states that the net force acting on an object equals its mass multiplied by its acceleration ($F = ma$), is the key. The more force you apply to an object, the more it will accelerate, provided the mass stays constant. Alternatively, for a given force, an object with more mass will accelerate less. Force also determines the direction of an object's acceleration. For example, pushing a cart with a small weight makes it accelerate quickly, while pushing a heavier cart with the same force makes it accelerate more slowly. Pushing a cart with a small weight makes it accelerate quickly, while pushing a heavier cart with the same force makes it accelerate more slowly. Pushing a cart with a small weight makes it accelerate quickly, while pushing a heavier cart with the same force makes it accelerate more slowly. Search and record answers for each question. 1. What happens when the net force on an object is not zero? a. The object changes direction. b. The object starts moving. c. The object accelerates. d. The object maintains constant velocity or is at rest. 2. What happens when the net force on an object is not zero? a. The object changes direction. b. The object starts moving. c. The object accelerates. d. The object maintains constant velocity or is at rest. 3. What happens when the net force on an object is not zero? a. The object changes direction. b. The object starts moving. c. The object accelerates. d. The object maintains constant velocity or is at rest. 4. What happens when the net force on an object is not zero? a.
