

A photograph of a two-lane asphalt road stretching into the distance, flanked by snow-covered evergreen and deciduous trees under a clear, light blue sky. The road has a yellow dashed center line and white solid edge lines. The trees are heavily laden with snow, creating a serene winter atmosphere.

Country Crafts Today:

Country Crafts Storey Communications,1990      The Country Blacksmith David L. McDougall,2013-05-10 The blacksmith was once crucial to village life whether commissioned for the humblest repair the most luxurious ironwork or even the odd anvil marriage Occupying prime position in the village the forge attracted custom from miles around and was a hive of industry and social interaction David L McDougall here describes the varied work blacksmiths undertook the tools and techniques they used and the magical and mystical qualities with which they were associated If you want to know more about the rise and fall of the country blacksmith and the recent revival of the craft this colourfully illustrated book is the ideal introduction

The Russian Country Estate Today Laura A Victoir,2006-03-30 Russia s country estates were fulcrums of culture learning and socio administration under the imperial state Only a fraction of the original numbers of these structures survives today and yet even today several of the most famous of these buildings have uncertain futures At risk is the survival of this fascinating remnant of Russia s cultural history This matter is especially salient as post Soviet Russia has participated in a struggle over means of its own self representation Historic landmarks enter the political arena during periods of drastic change The struggle over monuments reveals notable adjustments and continuities over a nation s historical narrative the study of the treatment of certain monuments provides insight to the language symbols and memory of a people in transition This book examines links between two seemingly divergent spheres of human interaction those of politics and culture The aim of this book is not to analyse the artistic and architectural merits of Russia s country estates as a plethora of works already address this subject Rather the objective is to look at the underlying attitudes and circumstances which affect the survival of this integral feature of Russia s pre revolutionary secular past A variety of factors come into play in estate preservation such as privatization restitution taxation legislation actions of governmental and non government organizations tourism and others This book analyzes Russia s institutions and actors that continually compete for shifting and scarce resources in the sphere of culture often to the detriment of physical cultural artefacts themselves More than just Russia s estates are subject to these forces although estates serve as an excellent lens with which to view these destructive processes at work

Traditional Country Crafts Miranda Innes,2001 In this lavishly illustrated survey of rural crafts from bookbinding to punched tin work Miranda Innes herself a passionate collector of country crafts celebrates country style and the pleasure and artistry of working with natural materials such as wood wool rattan and more For each of the featured crafts the author provides a fascinating look at the work of a leading artist in the field and offers an accessible project with step by step instructions and photographs The projects among them a wooden birdhouse complete with miniature cow weathervane a gilded lampshade decorated with shell patterns and a rag rug with a bold design of strutting roosters require neither expensive materials nor special training and cost almost nothing to make Traditional Country Crafts will appeal both aesthetically and practically to everyone whose heart is in the country

Woodland Craftsmen Ivan George Sparkes,1977 Much interest surrounds the story of woodland crafts and the men who worked amongst the trees making the domestic and agricultural implements that were once familiar to all but have now disappeared almost as completely as the dedicated craftsmen themselves All over Britain there were centres for rake makers bowl turners and chairmakers while in the Midlands the clogger played an essential part in industrial life The tools they used were in general common to all the woodland crafts but each trade had some kind of break or horse or special cutting tool that was designed for a particular task and was peculiar to that craft It is fortunate that over the years a number of writers have photographed and made detailed reports on these craftsmen and their products and that several museums such as the Salaman Collection at St Alban s and the Museum of English Rural Life at Reading founded collections of the tools before they completely disappeared These documents and artefacts are now of the greatest social importance for the woodland crafts with their economical use of natural materials provided an unlimited supply of essential objects for use in village life long before such objects were mass produced
