Excavations at Dryslwyn Castle, 1980-95 Chris Caple,2007 Excavations at Dryslwyn between 1980 and 1995 uncovered a masonry castle founded in the late 1220s by Rhys Gryg for his son Maredudd ap Rhys the first Lord of Dryslwyn The first castle was a simple round tower and polygonal walled enclosure within which were constructed a kitchen prison and wood framed clay floored great chamber beside a great hall In the mid 13th century a second ward was added and the great chamber rebuilt in stone This castle was greatly expanded in the period 1283 87 by Rhys ap Maredudd the second and final Lord of Dryslwyn who built an Outer Ward and gatehouse He also rebuilt much of the Inner Ward adding an extra storey to the great hall and great chamber apartments and a chapel At the end of the 13th century a large three ward castle stretched along the eastern and southern edge of the hill while the rest of the hilltop was occupied by a settlement defended by a wall and substantial ditch with access through a gatehouse This castle and its associated settlement were besieged and captured in 1287 by an English royal army of over 11 000 men following damage inflicted by a trebuchet and mining of the walls Throughout the 14th century the English Crown garrisoned and repaired the castle supervised by an appointed constable before it was surrendered to Owain Glyn Dwr in 1403 During the early to mid 15th century the castle was deliberately walled up to deny its use to a potential enemy and it was subsequently looted and demolished By the late 13th century the castle had a white rendered and lime washed appearance creating a very dramatic and highly visible symbol of lordship Internally the lord s and guest apartments had decorative wall paintings and glazed windows Evidence from charred beams still in situ the sizes shapes and distribution of nails sheet lead slates and postholes recovered during excavation has enabled some of the wooden as well as masonry buildings to be reconstructed Waterlogged deposits had preserAt just 132 hectares 325 acres the parish of Caldecote is one of the smallest parishes in Hertfordshire Today the settlement comprises the manor house until recently surrounded by a range of traditional farm buildings together with six labourer s cottages and the church To the north lies the site of the old rectory and the earthworks of a medieval settlement In 1973 the Department of Environment and the Deserted Medieval Village Research Group arranged a rescue excavation to examine the earthworks of the medieval village before they were levelled and ploughed Five crofts the old rectory site and much of the moated enclosure were investigated in one of the largest excavations ever conducted on a later medieval rural site in Britain Though the excavations did recover a Bronze Age beaker burial and small quantities of Roman and Iron Age pottery the medieval settlement at Caldecote was probably founded in the 10th century and by the time of the Domesday Survey there was a church a priest and nine villeins A moated site was added in the 13th century A century later Caldecote was granted to the abbots of the Benedictine monastery in St Albans at a time when there were seventeen householders Early in the second half of the 14th century the estate and demesne were subdivided into six farms each complete with a hall house and two or more barns Following the dissolution of the monastery in 1539 the manor was again held by an absentee lord and the farms continued to prosper However the late 16th and early 17th centuries for which there are several surviving wills and inventories saw their gradual abandonment After the desertion of Caldecote Marish in 1698 Caldecote was farmed as a single unit until 1970 when the estate was attached to that adjoining the manor of Newnham Of particular importance from Caldecote is the archaeological evidence for medieval peasant structures the development of the later medieval domestic plan and the structural tra Fourth Palenque Round Table, 1980 Merle Greene Robertson,1985 Children's Books in Print ,1993 Christians in Ulster, 1968-1980 Eric Gallagher,A. S. Worrall,1982 Women and Bullfighting Sarah Pink,2020-07-12 This book investigates the popularity and success of contemporary women performers in bullfighting culture which has been framed by a discourse of traditionalist masculinity This examination of the changing situation of women in the bullfighting world is used to explore the ways in which gender is represented enacted and negotiated in contemporary Spain The bullfight in the 1990s is in an ambiguous position it is a traditional performance in a changing consumer society In order to survive it needs to adapt itself to a wider social context and in particular to international media coverage It is in this context that the current success of women performers is located However women performers are a contested phenomenon in the bullfighting world there is heated debate over their acceptability much of which focuses on the body Moreover the entry of women into the bullfight questions existing definitions of the sport s ritual structure and of gender relations in Spain Thoroughly researched and compelling to read Women and Bullfighting addresses these issues and argues that existing traditionalist approaches to gender bullfighting and ritual in Spain need to be revised in order to locate women bullfighters in the context of a richly varied culture which is increasingly affected by the media and contemporary patterns of consumption This provocative book will be of interest to researchers and students of anthropology gender studies sociology cultural studies media studies and Spanish studies Subject Catalog, 1980 Library of Congress,1980 Handbook, the Guggenheim Museum Collection,

1900-1980 Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum, Vivian Endicott Barnett, Thomas M. Messer, 1980 Ottoman Costumes Suraiya Faroqhi, Christoph K. Neumann, 2004 The study of clothes and dressing has great potential for social and cultural history Typically Ottoman urbanites situated their fellow men after a glance at the clothing worn by the latter As to the women such conclusions were more difficult to draw as all females were to be modestly covered up and ideally almost invisible Yet in practice at least from the eighteenth century onwards it was often possible at least in Istanbul to distinguish fashionable from soberly pious women To be aware of people's modes of dressing thus was part of knowing one's way around in Ottoman society cover Fires Were Started Lester D. Friedman, 2006 Fires Were Started is a provocative analysis of the responses of British film to the policies and political ideology of the Conservative governments of Margaret Thatcher and it represents an original and stimulating contribution to our knowledge of British cinema This second edition includes revised and updated contributions from some of the leading scholars of British cinema including Thomas Elsaesser Peter Wollen and Manthia Diawara The book discusses prominent filmmakers such as Peter Greenaway Derek Jarman Ken Russell Nicolas Roeg and Stephen Frears it also explores some lesser known but equally important territory such as the work of Black British filmmakers the Leeds Animation Workshop and Channel 4's Film on Four Films discussed include Distant Voices Still Lives My Beautiful Laundrette Chariots of Fire and Drowning by Numbers British Cinema in the 1980's W. John Hill, 1999 In recent years the role and identity of British Cinema has been changing and it is these changes with which British cinema in the 1980s is concerned It looks at the increasing domination of the world film industry by Hollywood and the response of British filmmaking to this the role of government and the increasingly close relationship between film and television It also examines the kinds of images British Cinema produced in this period and how they relate to the shifting sense of British identity The book not only looks at the appeal of images of the past in the heritage film such as Howard's End and films of Empire such as A Passage to India but also discusses the more questioning images of the present by the state of the nation film such as Letter to Brezhnev and My Beautiful Laundrette In doing so it explores how these films deal with issues of class gender and ethnicity and how these in turn connect to our understanding of the Britishness of British cinema British Cinema in the 1980s will become the definitive study of an important period of British filmmaking Bringing together a discussion of British society the British film industry and British films John Hill provides an accessible analysis of the main themes and issues characterizing British cinema of the time
