Adolescence In Literature:

Contemporary Adolescent Literature and Culture Dr Mary Hilton, Professor Maria Nikolajeva, 2012-10-28 Offering a wide range of critical perspectives this volume explores the moral ideological and literary landscapes in fiction and other cultural productions aimed at young adults Topics examined are adolescence and the natural world nationhood and identity the mapping of sexual awakening onto postcolonial awareness hybridity and trans racial romance transgressive sexuality the sexually abused adolescent body music as a code for identity formation representations of adolescent emotion and what neuroscience research tells us about young adult readers writers and young artists Throughout the volume explores the ways writers configure their adolescent protagonists as awkward alienated rebellious and unhappy so that the figure of the young adult becomes a symbol of wider political and societal concerns Examining in depth significant contemporary novels including those by Julia Alvarez Stephenie Meyer Tamora Pierce Malorie Blackman and Meg Rosoff among others

Contemporary Adolescent Literature and Culture illuminates the ways in which the cultural constructions adolescent and young adult fiction share some of society's most painful anxieties and contradictions

Teaching Adolescent Literature Sheila Schwartz, 1979

Literary Conceptualizations of Growth Roberta Trites, 2014-07-15 Literary Conceptualizations of Growth explores those processes through which maturation is represented in adolescent literature by examining how concepts of growth manifest themselves in adolescent literature and by interrogating how the concept of growth structures scholars ability to think about adolescence Cognitive literary theory provides the theoretical framework as do the related fields of cognitive linguistics and experiential philosophy historical constructions of the concept of growth are also examined within the context of the history of ideas Cross cultural literature from the traditional Bildungsroman to the contemporary Young Adult novel serve as examples Literary Conceptualizations of Growth ultimately asserts that human cognitive structures are responsible for the pervasiveness of growth as both a metaphor and a narrative pattern in adolescent literature

The World of Adolescence Beta Copley, 1993 Literature and psychoanalysis are different media for exploring the world of the mind and in this finely crafted book Beta Copley gives equal weight to literary psychotherapeutic and social perspectives on adolescence Inspired by the writings of Klein Bion and Meltzer on groups and on mental states she is also mindful of the problems associated with treating literary works as case histories She addresses three celebrated literary works with adolescence in mind Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet and Much Ado about Nothing and Pushkin's Eugene Onegin For the reader these will evoke their own memories of love conflict and growing up and set the stage for the clinical material in the second half of the book She also returns to the oft studied theme of adolescent development and the social framework and gives rich examples of problems of young people in areas such as leaving home developing sexuality and social conflict These will illuminate not only the therapeutic work itself but something of the basic struggles of adolescence itself Beta Copley illustrates the core approach of intensive one to one work with adolescents This is neither widely available nor always appropriate She looks at other forms of intervention derived from it which may also be of inestimable benefit for young people in need

Adolescents in the Search for Meaning Mary L. Warner,2006-03-03 As is painfully evident from the reports of school shootings gang violence dysfunctional family life and from statistics on adolescent suicide many teens live troubled lives Even those who live a normal life still face the challenges adults face but teens are also engaged in establishing independence and finding their identity However few adolescents have the same resources as adults for surviving life challenges Building from the idea that story is a powerful source of meaning particularly those stories that resonate with our own lives this book suggests that the stories of other young adults offer a resource yet to be fully tapped Adolescents in the Search for Meaning begins from the perspective of young adults by sharing the results of a survey of over 1400 teens and also includes the insights of authors of Young Adult Literature The book presents over 120 novels that teens have identified as meaningful as well as books recommended by YA authors and experts in the field of YA literature For any teacher librarian parent or counselor wanting to reach young adults this book is ideal

Juvenile" Literature and British Society Charles Ferrall,Anna Jackson,2012-05-10 In this study Charles Ferrall and Anna Jackson argue that the Victorians created a concept of adolescence that lasted into the twentieth century and yet is strikingly at odds with post Second World War notions of adolescence as a period of storm and stress In the enormously popular juvenile literature of the period primarily boys and girls own adventure and school stories adolescence is acknowledged as a time of sexual awareness and yet also of a romantic idealism that is lost with marriage a time when boys and girls acquire adult duties and responsibilities and yet have not had to assume the roles of breadwinner or household manager The book reveals a concept of adolescence as significant as the Romantic cult of childhood that preceded it which will be of interest to scholars of both children s literature and Victorian culture

Adolescence in Literature Thomas West Gregory,1978 Stories by American authors deal with teenagers and their experiences with sexual awakening emotional development their families social adjustment school religion and the discovery of identity

Adolescence in "The Catcher in the Rye" and "Vernon God Little" - A comparison Katrin Karle,2012-07-24 Seminar paper from the year 2011 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Literature Works grade 1 0 University of Frankfurt Main Amerikanistik course 20th Century Adoles Scenes language English abstract The term adolescence describes the phase of life between late childhood and adulthood It contains not only the physical maturation but particularly the psychological and mental development from a child to an autonomous responsible adult Also literature has ever and anon created adolescent protagonists who have to deal with typical problems of coming of age A prime example for such a novel of initiation is The Catcher in the Rye This novel nearly fulfils all aspects a novel of initiation has to deal with Although The Catcher in the Rye was published sixty years ago it still finds general approval to people all over the world Another very successful novel of initiation is DBC Pierre s Vernon God Little which was written in 2003 and won the Man Booker Prize in the same year The Daily Mail described the 15 year old protagonist Vernon Gregory Little as one of the most engaging narrators since Catcher in the Rye's Holden Caulfield<sup>1</sup> and Sam Sifton from the New York Times says that Vernon Gregory Little is a Holden Caulfield on Ritalin<sup>2</sup>. There is no doubt that these two novels have considerable similarities. In both novels the main character is a male adolescent who tells his story as a first person narrator. Both stories have their sets in the United States and both deal with issues concerning adolescence. I want to research which further similarities these two books have in particular concerning adolescence. Therefore I am going to take a deeper look into typical issues these two adolescents have to deal with. First of all I am going to give a short overview about the plot to the reader so the reader understands further issues of my work. Then I will examine typical signs for adolescence like external and internal conflicts and language use of the protagonists of Vernon God Little and The Catcher in the Rye as well as the historical context of these two books. I am going to examine all these aspects in order to find out how the two novels explore the problems associated with adolescence and the narrators' messages regarding society.

The Adolescent in the American Novel, 1920-1960 W. Tasker Witham, 1964. A guide to the literature of adolescence mirroring the changing attitudes of novelist from the genteel tradition to the new era of frankness. For students of literature, sociologists, teachers, clergymen, parents, librarians.

Literature for Today's Young Adults Kenneth L. Donelson, Alleen Pace Nilsen, 2004. Discusses young adults and what they read, the history of adolescent literature, literary genre, using and evaluating literature for the library and classroom, and censorship. Numerous bibliographies are included.

Disturbing the Universe Roberta S. Trites, 1998-04-01. The Young Adult novel is ordinarily characterized as a coming of age story in which the narrative revolves around the individual growth and maturation of a character, but Roberta Trites expands this notion by chronicling the dynamics of power and repression that weave their way through YA books. Characters in these novels must learn to negotiate the levels of power that exist in the myriad social institutions within which they function, including family, church, government, and school.

Death, Gender and Sexuality in Contemporary Adolescent Literature Kathryn James, 2009-02-10. Knowledge about carnality and its limits provides the agenda for much of the fiction written for adolescent readers today, yet there exists little critical engagement with the ways in which it has been represented in the young adult novel, in either discursive, ideological, or rhetorical forms. Death, Gender and Sexuality in Contemporary Adolescent Literature is a pioneering study that addresses these methodological and contextual gaps. Focusing on texts produced since the late 1980s and drawing on a range of theoretical perspectives, Kathryn James shows how representations of death in young adult literature are invariably associated with issues of sexuality, gender, and power. Under particular scrutiny are the trope of woman death, the eroticizing and sexualizing of death, and the ways in which the gendered subject is represented in dialogue with the processes of death, dying, and grief. Through close readings of historical literature, fantasy fictions, realistic novels, dead narrator tales, and texts from genres including Gothic horror and post-disaster, James reveals not only how cultural discourses influence and are influenced by literary works, but how relevant the study of death is to adolescent fiction, the literature of becoming.

Adolescent Literature as a Useful Addition to Today's Curriculum Flo Ellen Denny Durway, 1989      Contemporary Adolescent Literature and Culture Mary Hilton, Maria Nikolajeva, 2012      Adolescent Literature Robert E. Probst, 1984

The Theme of Adolescence in Contemporary Literature Eleanor Bell, 1952      Readings about Adolescent Literature Dennis Thomison, 1970      Twain, Alcott, and the Birth of the Adolescent Reform Novel Roberta S. Trites, 2009-11 Trites argues that Twain and Alcott wrote on similar topics because they were so deeply affected by the Civil War by cataclysmic emotional and financial losses in their families by their cultural immersion in the tenets of Protestant philosophy and by sexual tensions that may have stimulated their interest in writing for adolescents Trites demonstrates how the authors participated in a cultural dynamic that marked the changing nature of adolescence in America provoking a literary sentiment that continues to inform young adult literature Both intuited that the transitory nature of adolescence makes it ripe for expression about human potential for change and reform      Curious Figures renée c Hoogland., Pamela Pattynama., 1992
