Cosmic Grace Humble Prayer:

Cosmic Grace + Humble Prayer Bartholomew I (Ecumenical Patriarch of Constantinople),2003 This book presents the ecological vision of Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew I a religious leader on environmental issues Cosmic Grace Humble Prayer is a collection of church statements and occasional addresses by the Ecumenical Patriarch some of them translated here for the first time

The Urgency of Climate Change Kiarash Aramesh, Gerard Magill,2017-01-06 The Urgency of Climate Change addresses a pivotal challenge for the sustainability of our planet This topic was selected for the inaugural conference in 2015 of an annual series on the Integrity of Creation The essays in this collection were selected in a peer reviewed manner and appeal to a general audience The chapters move from general to more specific points of view with a discussion at the end of each section addressing the global impact of climate change The first section sets the Context for the discussion explaining that the climate is an indispensable common good The part on Science emphasises that empirical reality must guide any analysis of the climate as a matter of basic knowledge and comprehension A crucial implication is whether the climate is sufficiently robust for the Earth to flourish for millennia ahead as discussed in the part on Sustainability In turn these sections raise pivotal questions regarding Ethics about social obligations for the planet to flourish and regarding Religion to foster global stewardship Finally this alignment of Ethics and Religion around the problems related to Science and Sustainability leads to the final section on Law that considers policy possibilities to effectively engage Climate Change

Eastern Orthodox Christianity and Animal Suffering Christine Nellist,2018-10-25 This book is the first academic work in Eastern Orthodox theological literature on the subject of animal suffering and human soteriology It represents a natural progression of the contemporary Eastern Orthodox academic debate on the environment and will be of interest not only to academic scholars in theology religion philosophy and ethics but also to the wider Christian and secular communities Using Biblical and Patristic teachings together with new social science research and contemporary science it presents arguments that animal suffering is against God s Will and that the abuse or misuse of animals or indifference to animal suffering will result in negative consequences for human salvation The book posits a revisionist interpretation of the Noahic narrative when addressing the challenging question of why God allows the dispensation of animals as food and offers compelling arguments on why the contemporary animal food production industries and animal testing model should be rejected

Homo Curator: Towards the Ethics of Consumption Péter Róna,László Zsolnai,Agnieszka Wincewicz-Price,2024-02-20 This book explores the under researched sources of the consumerist culture and the environmental damage it has brought about The book is an outcome of the symposium on The Ethics of Consumption organised and hosted by the Las Casas Institute at the Blackfriars Hall University of Oxford as part of its Economics as a Moral Science Programme It takes on two contemporary problems the human weakness and capacity for wrong doing and the failure of modern economic theory to account for the moral character of human behaviour and its implicit encouragement of gluttonous life styles In a time when grand political schemes are proposed to revive sustainability of global economy the authors of the papers collected in this book highlight the need for moral renewal without which the most revolutionary structural reforms are bound to fail at producing the desired outcome Topics of the book include the meaning and sources of avarice the attempt to define what is enough exploration of philosophical and theological perspectives which can serve as building blocks for the ethics of consumption This makes the book of great interest to a broad readership of economists social scientists and philosophers

Coming Home to Earth Mark S. Brocker, 2016-09-13 As a young Norwegian Lutheran teenager in rural Wisconsin Brocker lay awake one night worrying whether he believed in Jesus enough to get to heaven This getting to heaven anxiety reflected an excessive focus on individual salvation and a loss of concern for the well being of the Earth community A faith journey that leaves Earth behind is misguided Ever since those early teen years Brocker has been on a journey to come home to Earth Coming Home to Earth makes the case that there is no salvation apart from Earth and that Earth care is at the core of our identity and mission as followers of Jesus The ecological consequences of a loss of concern for the well being of Earth have been devastating Brocker is especially concerned to determine what will motivate followers of Jesus to make radical changes in our way of life so that we can participate in the healing of wounded Earth and all of its inhabitants both human and nonhuman We are far more likely to make needed sacrifices for our fellow creatures if we share God's delight in and affection for them and cherish Earth as our home

Voice of Missions, 2004 Journal of Dharma, 2003 Applied Ethics in a World Church Linda Hogan, 2008 Dealing with such issues as globalization gender and AIDS these essays by moral theologians demonstrate the creativity dynamism and diversity of the Catholic moral tradition as it proceeds from local cultures opens itself to cross cultural conversations and progresses in a spirit of mercy and care

Crucible, 2004 Water, 2008 Creation's Diversity Willem Drees, Hubert Meisinger, Taede Smedes, 2008-05-01 This collection of substantial essays explores the question of how to relate environmental engagement in the context of religious convictions In the first part of the book A Diversity of Visions of Creation six essays address various views of creation In the second part of the book Sustaining Creation's Diversity the concept of sustainability is analyzed critically given the dynamic character of natural reality as unveiled by the sciences This is followed by some reflections on ethical and theological considerations regarding the idea that we ought to sustain diversity

Theological Studies William James McGarry, John Courtney Murray, 2004 Globalization and Catholic Social Thought John Aloysius Coleman, William F. Ryan, 2005 Contributors to this volume assess the meaning of globalization and the capacity of Catholic social thought to understand reform and guide it

Christian Scholar's Review, 2004 Envisioning Nature, Science, and Religion James D. Proctor, 2009-10-15 Contemporary scholarship has given rise to several modes of understanding biophysical and human nature each entangled with related notions of science and religion Envisioning Nature Science and Religion represents the culmination of three years of collaboration by an international group of fourteen natural scientists social scientists humanists and theologians The result is an intellectually stimulating volume that explores how the ideas of nature pertain to science and religion Editor James D Proctor has gathered sixteen in depth essays each examining and comparing five central metaphors or visions of biophysical and human nature These visions are evolutionary nature emergent nature malleable nature nature as sacred and nature as culture The book s diverse contributors offer a wide variety of unique perspectives on these five visions spanning the intellectual spectrum and proposing important and often startling implications for religion and science alike Throughout the essays the authors do a great deal of cross referencing and engaging each other s ideas creating a cohesive dialogue on the visions of nature Envisioning Nature Science and Religion offers a blend of scholarly rigor and readable prose that will be appreciated by anyone engaged in the fields of religion philosophy and the natural sciences

Greening Paul David G. Horrell,Cherryl Hunt,Christopher Southgate,2010 A remarkable wide ranging attempt to read the Pauline literature from an ecological perspective Greening Paul the first book of its kind traverses carefully between extremes claiming to present Paul s narrative world and simply subjugating the Bible to a contemporary set of ethical values Skillfully the authors craft their reading of Paul according to the cutting edge insights of narrative criticism and tackle burning questions which assail Christians in the present ecological crisis Does the biblical tradition inculcate an anthropocentric worldview that gives humanity license to exploit the earth for our benefit Does biblical eschatology imply that the earth is of only passing significance for the elect Greening Paul is a timely and adroit re reading of the apostle Paul that provides a potentially very fruitful ecological vision all the while staying true to the biblical text Encyclopedia of Religion ,2005

Religion and the Environment Roger S. Gottlieb,2010 In the last two decades a new form of religiously motivated social action and a virtually new field of academic study each based in recognition of the connections between religion and humanity s treatment of the environment have developed Interactions between religion and environmental concern have been manifest in the explosive growth of ecotheological writings institutional commitment by organized religions and environmental activism explicitly oriented to religious ideals Clergy throughout the world in virtually every denomination have received word from leaders of their religion that the environment no less than sexuality poverty or war and peace is now a basic and compelling religious matter Out of this confrontation have been born vital new theologies based in the recovery of marginalized elements of tradition profound criticisms of the past and ecologically oriented visions of God the Sacred the Earth and human beings Theologians from every religious tradition along with dozens of non denominational spiritual writers have confronted world religions past attitudes towards nature In the realm of institutional commitment public statements and actions by organized religions have grown dramatically In the context of political action throughout the U S and the world religiously oriented groups take part in environmentally oriented political action from lobbying and consciousness raising to activist demonstrations and civil disobedience This collection serves as a comprehensive introduction overview and in depth account of these exciting new developments The four volumes cover virtually every aspect of the field from theological change and institutional commitment to innovation in liturgy from new ecumenical connections among different religions and between religion science and environmental movements from religious participation in environmental politics to an account of the global social and political contexts in which religious environmentalism has unfolded Heythrop Journal ,2004 The Writers Directory ,2013
