Counseling Refugees:

Counseling Refugees Fred Bemak, Rita Chi-Ying Chung, Paul Pedersen, 2002-09-30 There are more than 26 million refugees in the world and the population is expected to grow. However, there is minimal training or understanding in the mental health and social services fields that provides the awareness, knowledge, and skills to effectively work with refugees. Subsequently, this volume is intended to provide a comprehensive understanding of refugee psychosocial adjustment that incorporates cross-cultural perspectives. The text provides an all-inclusive overview of refugee acculturation and adaptation, a model of intervention to assist refugees in the process of psychosocial adjustment, case studies illustrating practical intervention applications, and country-specific interventions from unique and diverse national perspectives. Professionals working with refugees in the United States and around the world will value this volume. Counseling With Immigrants, Refugees, and Their Families From Social Justice Perspectives Patricia Arredondo, Mary L. Fawcett, Dawnette L.

Cigrand, Sandra Bertram Grant, Rieko Miyakuni, Dariyan Adams, 2024-04-02 Immigrants and refugees continue to make enormous contributions to the economic, educational, and cultural richness of the U.S. They plan for and manage multiple changes to achieve goals for themselves and their families and, in the process, give back to the U.S. This book provides insight for counselors working with immigrants and refugees and their families across the lifespan. Social justice and multicultural counseling competency frameworks ground this text, which is intended for counselors working in academic settings, conducting research, and practicing in different contexts. Because immigrants and refugees have various cultural heritages, immigration journeys, reasons for migrating, and presenting situations, counselors must be prepared to engage with individuals and families as unique clients. Descriptions of these contextual factors, including data and legislation, are included. This book will guide counselors in recognizing the additional steps they may need to take to account for culture, language, health status, relationships in place, and, of course, the priority issues, i.e., child's illness and/or school bullying, to be dealt with. Additionally, counselors will learn about the rationale for migration, as well as the concentration camps that may be home to refugees for an indeterminate time. Counselors will read about losses that affect immigrant and refugee clients and how these naturally contribute to sadness, depression, anger, and self-isolation.
