The New York Historical Society Quarterly New-York Historical Society,1918

Life in Colonial America Russell Roberts,2010-12-23 From the moment Europeans stumbled across North America at the end of the fifteenth century monarchs and investors sought to exploit the land's riches With high expectations colonists sailed across the Atlantic seeking a better life and perhaps even fortune But life in America was harder than they thought Several colonies failed and without the help of friendly Native Americans others may not have made it either Even after the colonists learned how to build houses hunt and farm life remained hard for all concerned Men had to plant and tend crops hunt wild game and fix anything that broke

Women had to take care of children sew cook and perform dozens of other duties Children also had a list of chores that they had to perform every day There was so much work in fact that colonists began using indentured servants and then slaves from Africa to plant and harvest their crops Learn what daily life was like for the colonists and how their successes affected the Native Americans and governments in other countries The New York Historical Society Quarterly Bulletin
