Arab Manpower J. S. Birks, C. A. Sinclair, 1980 Mobilizing Human Resources in the Arab World (RLE Economy of Middle East) R. Paul Shaw, 2015-05-15 R Paul Shaw has travelled widely in the Arab world obtaining data and gathering impressions first hand from national and local planners In this book he identifies population and manpower problems that are likely to become more serious and more difficult to solve if they are neglected at this early stage of Arab development He focuses on five broad areas which are directly or indirectly related to mobilizing human resources and his book will be of special interest to all those who are concerned with such issues as population migration employment inequality the emancipation of women construction and agriculture Dr Shaw proposes policy directives which are sensitive to the problems as they are seen by the Arab governments themselves and sets out practical guidelines which can be used by Arab planners and policy makers An important feature of the book with respect to current literature on Arab development is that it moves away from a preoccupation with growth related investments to a concentration on development related population manpower and employment issues By bringing together such comprehensive empirical and bibliographic information it will also be invaluable as a reference source for some twenty Arab countries First published in 1983 Arab Manpower J.S. Birks, C. A. Sinclair, 2016-11 The Arab world increasingly falls into two divisions the capital poor and the capital rich countries where capital means in essence oil In the capital rich countries shortage of labour is the chief constraint on growth In the capital poor countries analysis of the labour market is equally central as shortage of labour compounds the already existing problem of shortage of capital This book surveys the labour markets of the Arab world state by state evaluating them by demand and supply analysis and analysing the different elements in trends of employment It forecasts the areas of stress in the next decade and suggests ways of minimising them The book based on much previously unpublished information and on extensive on the spot research in the respective Arab countries sets out the economic and social conditions which underly the impending crisis of development in the Arab region First published in 1980 Saudi Arabia Nadav Safran, 1988 Combining vast scholarship and a deep understanding of Arab culture Nadav Safran has written a sophisticated book about the politics of Saudi Arabia In a narrative that emphasizes the Saudis sense of the precariousness of their state and of their position in the Middle East Safran demystifies the behavior of the Kingdom s rulers Security has long been the predominant concern of Saudi Arabia In 1981 the Kingdom s defense and security budget was an immense 25 billion the fourth largest in the world after the United States the Soviet Union and China and the highest in the world on a per capita basis Safran traces the roots of Saudi preoccupation with security through half a century discerning political struggles and policy differences in the Saud family and how they have affected the position of the country His treatment provides an enlightening perspective on the interplay of the politics of the elite shifting inter Arab alignments and rivalries war revolution and other cataclysmic events in the Persian Gulf the ongoing Arab Israeli conflict and the involvement of the United States in the Middle East Women At Work In The Gulf Munira A. Fakhro, 2013-10-28 First published in 1990 This book grew out of a dissertation written during 1983-86 and is an analysis of the social policies needed to facilitate women's entry into the labour force Pushing the need and recognition that it is essential now for Gulf women to move beyond their domestic activities by taking an active role and by providing leadership to ensure that they have access to the opportunities and benefits of economic development The tables presented here are entirely new in the sense that data were selected from 1941-81 censuses Other statistics were drawn from different sources reflecting developments during the 1980s United Arab Emirates Ibrahim Abed, Peter Hellyer, 2001 An authoritative and wide ranging book uncovering the rich heritage of the United Arab Emirates its political renaissance and its modern transformation into one of the most developed nations in the world Daily Report, Foreign Radio Broadcasts United States. Central Intelligence Agency, 1965 Migrant Workers in the Gulf Roger Owen, Nicholas Van Hear, 1992-04-01 The oil price explosion of the early 1970s triggered off a massive wave of labour migration into the oil rich states of the Gulf The migrants came from the poorer Arab countries from Asia and Africa attracted by wage levels considerably higher than they could earn in their homelands Some came on short term contracts others stayed many years By the end of the 1980s there were thought to be over six million migrant workers in the region Migrant Workers in the Gulf for the first time provides a concise overview of the situation of these new migrant workers Written by Dr Roger Owen it gives a valuable insight into the problems and the pressures they face The report also contains an MRG Update by Dr Nicholas Van Hear outlining the mass population movements in the early 1990s About two million foreign residents left Iraq and Kuwait in the aftermath of the Iraqi invasion of Kuwait 800 000 Yemenis were pressured to leave Saudi Arabia while in 1991 persecution of Kuwait's long established Palestinian community by the newly restored rulers led to their mass exodus The report poses vital questions Can the rights of migrant workers be protected Can mass population movements be prevented in the future What should be the role of the UN and the international community This unique report should be of immense value to all those interested in the social and economic history of the Middle East and Asia and to policy makers concerned with migration labour and mass movements of people worldwide Please note that the terminology in the fields of minority rights and indigenous peoples rights has changed over time MRG strives to reflect these changes as well as respect the right to self identification on the part of minorities and indigenous peoples At the same time after over 50 years work we know that our archive is of considerable interest to activists and researchers Therefore we make available as much of our back catalogue as possible while being aware that the language used may not reflect current thinking on these issues Daily Report, 1977 State, Society and Economy in Saudi Arabia (RLE Saudi Arabia) Tim Niblock, 2015-02-20 Saudi Arabia is one of the most important countries in the modern world Not only does it possess some 25 per cent of the world's proven oil reserves it also plays a crucial role in the wider Gulf region where over 50 per cent of proven reserves are located Developments in Saudi Arabia will inevitably affect the economic well being of the Western industrialised world Japan and much of the Third World At the same time Saudi Arabia is ruled in a traditional way by an all powerful king and royal family and is one of the key countries of Islam the Holy City of Mecca being within the country s boundaries The inroad of modern Western forces into this traditional Islamic society is underlined by the fact that many key posts are filled with imported Western workers This book first published in 1982 containing contributions by the world s leading Middle Eastern experts provides a comprehensive overview of important social political and economic developments in Saudi Arabia The opening chapters consider the formation of the Saudi State and the bulk of the book surveys key themes such as political opposition the oil industry energy policy banking external relations and the future direction of development Arab shipping ,1983

Economic and Social Commission for Western Asia,2008-01-29 International migration is a steadily expanding international phenomenon of long standing which impacts on global economies and the political and economic relations between sending and receiving countries One of the most important indicators of the dynamism and complexity of international migration is perhaps the fact that it is directly rapidly and instantly affected by the challenges of globalization at the Arab regional and international levels The first section of this report considers the trends and patterns of Arab migration Since the 1970s Arab migration has continued to change not only with respect to size but also as regards composition the qualifications of migrants the countries they target and the repercussions of migration in receiving and sending countries For decades the Arab labour market was instrumented in balancing the needs of countries with excess labour high demographic rates and scarce resources and those countries with an economic surplus low demographic rates and a scarcity of labour This relates specifically to non oil Arab countries versus oil countries The second section of the report address international migration and its relevance top development in Arab countries
