Syria and Saudi Arabia Sonoko Sunayama, 2007 The nature of the relationship between Syria and Saudi Arabia during the oil era poses many questions for the commentators and analysts of inter Arab politics during this period Why have these two states pursued mutually conflicting aims in almost every major regional or international foreign policy issue Why over the course of the past thirty years have they often propagated contrasting ideological banners while both acting as though some form of an alignment existed between them Here Sonoko Sunayama explores the apparent paradox behind this longstanding relationship and argues that what ultimately makes Saudis and Syrians so indispensable to each other is the perception and the historical appeal of shared identities be they Arabism or Islam

Politics, Society, And Democracy H. E. Chehabi, Alfred Stepan, 1995-01-11 Part One of this volume contains essays on research methodology that are a tribute to Linz's work Part Two focuses on the question of political identities a topic that has gained relevance in a world that is increasingly segmented by overarching political and economic blocks The essays in Part Three follow Linz's seminal work on authoritarianism and totalitarianism while the chapters in Part Four reexamine his preoccupation with the transition to and consolidation of democracy
