Arbitration World:

Arbitration 2017 National Academy of Arbitrators. Annual Meeting, 2018 The World's Work Walter Hines Page, Arthur Wilson Page, 1919 A history of our time World Arbitration & Mediation Report, 1998 Arbitration's Age of Enlightenment? Cavinder Bull, Loretta Malintoppi, Constantine Partasides, 2023-09-12 Directly presenting the considered views of a broad cross section of the international arbitration community this timely collection of essays addresses the criticism of the arbitral process that has been voiced in recent years interpreting the challenge as an invitation to enlightenment The volume records the entire proceedings of the twenty fifth Congress of the International Council for Commercial Arbitration ICCA held in Edinburgh in September 2022 Topics range from the impact of artificial intelligence to the role of international arbitration in restraining resort to unilateralism protectionism and nationalism The contributors tackle such contentious issues as the following time and cost gender and cultural diversity confidentiality vs transparency investor State dispute settlement procedures the proposed establishment of a permanent international investment court system how cross fertilisation across different disciplines may impact international arbitration determining whether a document request seeks documents that are relevant and material to the outcome of a dispute whether we would be better off if investment arbitration were to disappear and implications for international arbitration of the Russian invasion of Ukraine There is consideration of global issues that are likely to give rise to disputes in the future including climate change environmental protection access to depleting water resources energy and mining transition and human rights initiatives Several contributions focus on developments in specific countries China India and regions Africa the Middle East Arbitrators corporate counsel and policymakers will appreciate this opportunity to engage with current thinking on key issues in international commercial and investment arbitration especially given the diversity of thought presented by authors from all over the world Investment Arbitration's Tightrope Paolo Vargiu, 2025-06-03 This book addresses the role of investment arbitrators within the framework of international investment law a system that tends by design to prioritise the interests of foreign investors often at the expense of the economic and social policies of the host states The theoretical foundations of this volume are doctrinal and the argument presented is aimed at contributing to the scholarly debate on the reform of the system of investment law Because of this the book is particularly focussed on the scholarship and is aimed at an audience already familiar with the system of investment arbitration and its case law The author explores both the explicit and implicit duties of arbitrators and critically questions certain critiques of investment law that call for arbitrators to interpret bilateral investment treaties and free trade agreements in ways that also protect the host states interests While the author argues that challenges to the legitimacy and credibility of the current investment law regime are well founded he also argues that arbitrators find themselves constrained by the prevailing legal framework unable to fully balance the competing interests of foreign investors and host states The book concludes that achieving greater equality in the investment legal regime

necessitates a departure from the existing bilateral investment treaties paradigm and calls for a more just and balanced system of investment treaties The author argues that until such a transformation occurs arbitrators remain compelled to apply the current applicable law highlighting the insurmountable limitations and tensions within the present system

Hurd, 1928 Global Governance Diplomacy Jean-Robert Leguey-Feilleux, 2017-03-01 Nations even the most powerful cannot cope by themselves with many of the problems confronting them Collective efforts are needed and diplomacy is a key element in this process This text examines how diplomacy serves global governance how the diverse international actors use it and what it accomplishes The focus is on diplomatic practice looking at the diverse methods used by the international actors involved and how they contribute to its effectiveness The first section examines how various levels of international actors practice diplomacy Nation states are still key actors and they use many methods in embassies international conferences international organizations summit meetings and more International organizations are both a forum for multilateral diplomacy and a major set of international actors still growing in significance for global governance diplomacy In addition a multiplicity of regional or limited membership institutions play a role in global governance At the transnational level there is the increasing role of civil society institutions and nongovernmental organizations in international affairs This is where a new kind of international actors is found unevenly contributing to global governance diplomacy beyond the control of public authorities The second section explores the functional level looking at how diplomacy operates in five areas of global governance peace and security economic governance social issues human rights and environmental protection Each of these presents different challenges for global governance diplomacy and requires the development of different diplomatic strategies and new techniques Some of the issues are more amenable to global governance while others such as the eradication of global poverty remain fairly intractable The text extends beyond the usual description of diplomatic apparatus and dynamics to explore diplomacy at work in specific current policy areas that are very relevant to the present debates in international politics
