Archaeological Approaches To Cultural Identity:

Archaeological Approaches to Cultural Identity S. J. Shennan, 2003-05-20 Examines the critical implications of cultural identity from a variety of perspectives Questions the nature and limits of archaeological knowledge of the past and the relationship of material culture to cultural identity

Archaeology of Identity Margarita Diaz-Andreu, Sam Lucy, 2007-05-07 Bringing together a wealth of scholarship which provides a unique integrated approach to identity The Archaeology of Identity presents an overview of the five key areas which have recently emerged in archaeological social theory gender age ethnicity religion status This excellent book reviews the research history of each areas the different ways in which each has been investigated and offers new avenues for research and exploring the connections between them Emphasis is placed on exploring the ways in which material culture structures and is structured by these aspects of individual and communal identity with a particular examination of social practice Useful for social scientists in sociology anthropology and history under and postgraduates will find this an excellent addition to their course studies

Cultural Identity and Archaeology Paul Graves-Brown, Siân Jones, Clive Gamble, 1996 Cultural identity is a key area of debate in contemporary Europe Despite widespread use of the past in the construction of ethnic national and European identity theories of cultural identity have been neglected in archaeology Focusing on the interrelationships between concepts of cultural identity today and the interpretation of past cultural groups Cultural Identity and Archaeology offers proactive archaeological perspectives in the debate surrounding European identities This fascinating and thought provoking book covers three key areas It considers how material remains are used in the interpretation of cultural identities for example pan Celtic culture and Bronze Age Europe Finally it looks at archaeological evidence for the construction of cultural identities in the European past The authors are critical of monolithic constructions of Europe and also of the ethnic and national groups within it in place of such exclusive cultural political and territorial entities the book argues for a consideration of the diverse hybrid and multiple nature of European cultural identities

Fundamental Archaeological Concepts R. Lee Lyman, 2026-01-08 A much needed deep dive into some of the main concepts of archaeology offering a comprehensive explanation and definition of commonly used terms

From the Baltic to the Black Sea Leslie Alcock, David Austin, 2013-10-28 Offers a rare insight into the closed world of medieval Eastern Europe and opens up a neglected archaeological tradition to English speaking readers Sections focus on early European ethnic formations and states the demography of medieval populations and the nature of rural settlement and urban development The book challenges the intellectual assumptions of medieval archaeology and questions its relationship to history and prehistory It exposes the limitations of a strictly empirical approach to studying the period when written history began and the early medieval states emerged

Rituals of Power Frans Theuws, Janet Nelson, 2021-10-01 13 papers by 16 leading archaeologists and historians of late antiquity and the early middle ages break new ground in their discussion analysis and criticism of present interpretations of early medieval rituals and their material correlates Some deal with rituals relating to death life cycles and the circulation in other contexts of objects otherwise used in the burial ritual Others are concerned with the symbolism and ideology of royal power the formation of a political ideology east of the Rhine from the mid 5th century onwards and penance rituals in relation to Carolingian episcopal discourse on ecclesiastical power and morale All deal with the creation of new identities cultures norms and values and their expression in new rituals and ideas from the period of the Great Migrations through the Later Roman Empire down to the society of Beowulf and the later Carolingians

From Antiquarian to Archaeologist Tim Murray, 2014-04-16 Brings together fourteen of Tim Murray's papers on the history philosophy and sociology of archaeology published over two decades Bulletin of the History of Archaeology This volume forms a collection of papers tracking the emergence of the history of archaeology from a subject of marginal status in the 1980s to the mainstream subject which it is today Professor Timothy Murray's essays have been widely cited and track over twenty years in the development of the subject The papers are accompanied by a new introduction which surveys the development of the subject over the last twenty five years as well as a reflection of what this means for the philosophy of archaeology and theoretical archaeology This volume spans Tim's successful career as an academic at the forefront of the study of the history of archaeology both in Australia and internationally During his career he has held posts in Britain and Europe as well as Australia He has edited the Bulletin of the History of Archaeology since 2003

Imports and Immigrants Gail L. Hoffman, 1997 A reassessment of artistic relationships between ancient Greece and other regions of the Aegean basin

Handbook of Archaeological Methods Christopher Chippindale, Herbert D. G. Maschner, 2005-11-17 The Handbook of Archaeological Methods comprises 37 articles by leading archaeologists on the key methods used by archaeologists in the field in analysis in theory building and in managing cultural resources The book is destined to become the key reference work for archaeologists and their advanced students on contemporary archaeological methods

Archaeologia Polona, 1998 Pattern and Process in the Material Culture of Anglo-Saxon Non-elite Rural Settlements Hana Lewis (Archaeologist), 2019 UCL Institute of Archaeology PhD Series Volume 1 The research presented in this book advances scholarship on Anglo Saxon non elite rural settlements through the analysis of material culture Forty four non elite sites and the high status site of Staunch Meadow occupied throughout the Anglo Saxon period c 5th 11th centuries and geographically representative of Anglo Saxon settlement in England were selected for study Comparative analyses of the material culture assemblages and settlement data from these sites were evaluated from four main research perspectives the archaeological contexts and distributional patterns of material culture at the sites the range and character of material culture patterns of material culture consumption and material culture as evidence for the economic reach of rural settlements

Archaeology as Science Fiction Fredrik Fahlander, 2001 Afro-Atlantic Dialogues Kevin A. Yelvington, 2006 This book breaks new theoretical and methodological ground in the study of the African diaspora in the Atlantic world Leading scholars of archaeology linguistics and socio cultural anthropology draw upon extensive field experiences and archival investigations of black communities in North America the Caribbean South America and Africa to challenge received paradigms in Afro American anthropology They employ dialogic approaches that demand both an awareness of the historical fashioning of anthropology s categories and selfreflexive critical research and define a new agenda for the field Paying close attention to power politics and the dynamism of never finished open ended behavioral forms and symbolic repertoires the contributors address colonialism the slave trade racism ethnogenesis New World nationalism urban identity politics the development of artworlds musics and their publics the emergence of new religious and ritual forms speech genres and contested historical representations The authors offer sophisticated interpretations of cultural change exchange appropriation and re appropriation that challenge simplistic notions of culture

Visions of Past Glory Derek Fewster,2006 Finland during both prehistoric and medieval times has been the subject of numerous studies but none of these have previously considered the nationalist essence of the integral underlying history culture or public archaeology of the nation Even quite obvious political interpretations visions and imageries of an ancient Golden Age have all too easily been dismissed as the consequences of mere patriotism Kalevala enthusiasm or Karelianism This study presents the case for how the conceptions of a distant glorious past have been advanced and actively developed within the national project of constructing a modern ethnicity of Finnishness Accordingly a conception of an original ancient greatness was paramount for the nationalist movements in both the Grand Duchy and the early Republic of Finland especially so when the perceived nation was considered in need of intellectually unifying defences against the many conceived threats of Russianness after ca 1890 The author traces the construction of a Finnish Great Myth of National Origins from the 16th century until the end of the Second World War and provides richly illustrated examples of how the process of nation building influenced and amplified the deep historical core of the emerging Finnish national consciousness

The Archaeology of Israel Neil Asher Silberman,David B. Small,1997-03 This volume represents an overview of the current state of archaeology in Israel With contributions from leading scholars of archaeology in ancient Israel the essays focus on current problems and cutting edge issues ranging from reviews of ongoing excavations to new analytical approaches Of interest not only to archaeologists but social historians as well the topics include archaeology and social history archaeology and ethnicity and issues relating to combining texts and archaeology in the reconstruction of ancient Israel

BOOK JACKET Imperialist Archaeology in the Canary Islands A. José Farrujia de la Rosa,2005 Who first arrived in the Canary Islands and colonized them When and how did this happen Where did the first inhabitants come from These are the main questions relating to the colonization of the Canaries during primitive times that ethnographers historians and archaeologists have tried to solve for six centuries ever since the rediscovery of the islands by Europe in the 14th century This monograph aims to analyse how imperialist archaeology was developed and articulated in the Canaries by countries like France and Germany It includes a brief analysis of how the study of primitive colonization was articulated prior to the development of nineteenth century imperialistic archaeology analysis of the theoretical and methodological framework of European archaeology and physical anthropology a look at the nineteenth century historical context with particular reference to the colonial partitioning of Africa and reflections on the repercussions of imperialist archaeology on contemporary scientific production by Canarian authors SOMA 2003 Camilla Briault, 2005 32 papers from the Symposium on Mediterranean Archaeology held at the Institute of Archaeology London in 2003 Encyclopedia of Archaeology Tim Murray, 2001-06-28
