Arab Military Industry Yazid Sayigh, 1992 The increased activity of Third World arms producers and exporters is a growing phenomenon in international security Little systematic study has been made of the incentives performance and prospects of Arab defence production This book tackles this subject and examines the continuing debate about the pros and cons of indigenous production in the Arab case It looks in detail at the theoretical and strategic context of Arab arms production local defence production in the Arab countries and assesses Arab military industrialisation Yezid Sayigh presents a comprehensive overview of the present reality of Arab defence industries and concludes that Arab countries will be frustrated in their desire to emulate foreign military development until the right industrial environment is created

Military Industry and Regional Defense Policy Timothy D. Hoyt, 2017-07-05 Military Industry and Regional Defense Policy re examines military industrialization in the developing world focusing on policy making in producer states and the impact of security perceptions on such policy making Timothy D Hoyt reassesses the role of regional state sub systems in international relations and recent historical studies of international technology and arms transfers Looking at Israel Iraq and India the three most powerful regional powers in the Cold War era he presents an expert analysis of the three sided phenomena of the regional hegemony the regional competitor and the small over achiever This new book breaks away from existing literature on military industries in the developing world which has focused on their economic and development costs and benefits These past studies have used primitive methodologies that focus on the production of complete weapons systems a misleading gauge in a world of growing international defense cooperation They have also ignored empirical evidence of the impact of local military industrial production on Cold War regional conflict and of the defence planning and concerns that drove development of indigenous military industries in key regional powers This new text delivers an incisive new perspective Daily Report, 1978 Middle East Diversification and Defense Market Assessment, 1996 Mideast File, 1988 Economic Relations Between Egypt and the Gulf Oil States, 1967-2000 Gil Feiler, 2003 Providing an insight into the relationship between Egypt and the Gulf oil states this work analyzes the effects economic aid and cooperation had on the political relation ship between the two sides and on President Sadat s peace initiative with Israel Jane's Defence Weekly, 1988 Translations on Near East and North Africa, 1975 Defence Journal, 1984 The Philippine Journal of Animal Industry Victor Buenacamino, 1937 Jane's World Combat Aircraft Michael John Haddrick Taylor, 1988 Beskriver kampfly og kamphelikoptere fra hele verden Jane's All the World's Aircraft, 1992 USSR Report, 1983 The Implications of Third World Military Industrialization James Everett Katz, 1986 Northeast African Studies, 1986 Interavia, 1988 Congressional Record United States. Proceedings in the Congress of the United States 1789 1824 the Register of Debates in Congress 1824 1837 and the Congressional Globe 1833 1873 The World Today ,1945 Changing Military Perspectives in the Middle East J. C. Hurewitz,1970 Examination of the Arab Israel conflict in terms of the superpowers military diplomacy Because of increased rivalry for prestige and influence in the Middle East particularly since 1955 the superpowers have tried to sway the external policies of their military clients by regulating the type volume and cost of their arms exports Manipulation of arms transfers enabled the superpowers to improve their immediate political influence in individual countries but also exacerbated the regional frictions and intensified the Arab Israel dispute It also created special opportunities for the USSR and problems for the United States since Arab public opinion was conditioned by the policies toward Israel toward Britain and by France s residual imperial position in the Arab area Both the U S and Soviet Mediterranean fleets labor under restraints that limit the rivalry Yet without mutually agreed on rules for superpower competition the regional disputants are able to play off both powers against each other Events ,1979
