Gathered Before God Jane Rogers Vann, 2004-01-01 What is the central purpose of the church today How can churches experience renewal through worship In Gathered before God Jane Rogers Vann answers these important questions by studying ten vibrant small medium and large churches Her findings she argues show that worship is the most important thing churches do and is vital to the renewal of congregational life Vann explores how these congregations changed into worship centered churches and how their experiences can help other churches do the same Gathered before God offers resources for pastors worship leaders and Christian educators to reflect on their worship leading to an openness to change and processes to help church leaders support each other during the periods of reform and renewal Moving beyond the contemporary versus traditional debate Gathered before God is an earnest call for us all to reclaim worship as a central act of our life together as Christians that expresses clearly what the church believes about God itself and the world

Children Matter Scottie May, Beth Posterski, Catherine Stonehouse, Linda Cannell, 2005-08-31 Children today are no longer expected to be seen and not heard yet in many churches children are involved only in programs specifically designated for them Children Matter offers a full discussion of children's spirituality and shows how the faith community can better nurture its youngest members Speaking from their experience with children's ministry in a range of Protestant traditions the authors draw on the Bible history and psychology to lay good foundations for such ministry Discussing the specific content and contexts of faith formation they also offer wise and practical advice on putting together effective ministries Rather than focusing on innovative ways to use technology Children Matter emphasizes relationships between people and encourages the church to welcome all children as valued participants in the people of God

The Church of All Ages Howard A. Vanderwell,2007-12-17 Many congregations today experience collisions between parents who want to spend time with their children and age segregated church programming as well as between the children worshipping in their pews and the increasing number of seniors in the same pew Among the questions these congregations struggle to address are these Should we try to hold the generations together when we worship Is it even possible Led by pastor and resource developer Howard Vanderwell nine writers pastors teachers worship planners and others serving in specialized ministries offer their reflections on issues congregational leaders need to address as they design their worship ministry In addition numerous sidebars illustrate the diversity of practices in the church today Contributors do not propose easy answers or instant solutions Rather they guide readers as they craft ministries and practices that fit their own community heritage and history Each chapter includes questions for reflection and group discussion and an appendix provides guidelines for small group use The thread that connects these varied contributions is the belief that there is no greater privilege for Christians than worshipping God and there is no better way to do that than as an intergenerational community in which all are important and all encourage and nurture the faith of the others Including Children in Worship Elizabeth J. Sandell,1991 Worship God ,2023 The Baptism of Your Child Carol A Wehrheim,2018-03-23 There are few things more joyous in a congregation than the presentation of a new baby or small child for baptism But even lifelong Christians can lack an understanding of the theology and terminology surrounding baptism The Baptism of Your Child answers common questions new parents and new members with small children may have about having their children baptized and it includes prayers and ideas for helping children grow in their faith
