China Review 1995:

China Review 1995 Chi Kin Lo, Lo Chi Kin, Suzanne Pepper, Kai Yuen Tsui, 1995 Interpreting U.S.-China-Taiwan Relations Xiabing Li, Xiabo Hu, Yang Zhong, 2003-02-27 Interpreting U S China Taiwan Relations presents an up to date multidisciplinary approach to this often troublesome relationship through essays written by experts in the fields of political science economics military science history and communications It begins with a focus on the relationship between the U S and China as China presses forward with new development while the United States encourages a balance of power in East Asia It evaluates the successes and failures of the relationship and the forces behind the stands that they take that feed the stress of the relationship The second group of essays deals with the relationship between China and Taiwan They examine the recent changes and tentativeness surrounding the situation caused by the death of Deng Xiaoping and the social and economic problems of China yet communicate a tremendous optimism that a breakthrough will occur in the future The final essays explore the evolution of China s perceptions of its international environment as it begins to understand and respond to external circumstances better and more positively Social and Political Development in Post-reform China K. Mok, 1999-10-11 This book is a sociological study of how economic reforms started in the late 1970s have affected people s life in China The book is based upon the author s recent research projects conducted in mainland China The unique feature of the book is not only based upon qualitative analysis but also quantitative data the integration of which can enhance readers understanding of current social and political developments in post Mao China In particular the book aims to depict a context and sociological framework for the analysis of the dynamic and interactive processes between economic social and political fronts China's Foreign Relations Denny Roy, 1998-04-02 The Asia Pacific region has become an increasingly important focus of attention in International Relations in the post Cold War period and the evolution of Chinese foreign policy holds the key to future developments in this arena The collapse of the USSR also highlights China s importance as a potential global super power This timely text provides a broad ranging assessment of China s foreign relations at global and regional level and in relation to its disputed territories under foreign control China Business Review 1995: A Supplement Of The Accounting And Business Review Buen Sin Low, 1995-11-10 The economic reforms sweeping China have excited the world attracting many companies around the globe to tap into the huge economic potential of the China market At the same time however such companies are also faced with challenges when doing business in China These range from identifying the right business opportunities and partner to the day to day management of staff China Business Review CBR aims to provide practising executives with relevant knowledge and information on the current economic and management issues in China The articles were assimilated and refereed by a highly selected editorial board from the School of Management Fudan Univ and Nanyang Business School NTU These papers include the experience of successful practising senior executives and individuals in advance management as well as economic research conducted in this subject area This supplement is jointly published by the School of Management of Fudan University and the Nanyang Business School of the Nanyang Technological University China's Economy John Wong, 1995 China in the Post-Deng Era, 1998 Deng Xiaoping's death marked the end of an era in contemporary Chinese politics. The first generation revolutionary leaders have gone and the third generation leaders are genuinely in power. At the same time economic reforms since 1978 have now reached a plateau and a new impetus is called for to maintain the momentum of economic growth. Reform of the state enterprises is a good example of the situation. It is therefore an appropriate time to review developments in China and discuss what needs to be done in the future. A team of experts has been gathered to complete this formidable task. They come from Australia, China, Hong Kong and the United States. Each author deals with a specific policy area and his/her chapter will cover 1 what has been achieved since 1978, 2 an evaluation of the policies and reforms so far with emphasis on what needs to be done in the future, 3 what the plans of Chinese leaders on further reforms and future changes are and what the author's evaluation of such plans is and 4 what the vision following Deng's death will be. Human Resource Management in China Cherrie Jiuhua Zhu, 2004-03-01 Enhancing our understanding of HRM in the Chinese industrial sector, this book explores the emerging role of HRM in China's industrial enterprises. A significant contribution to the theory of HRM, this book will be essential reading for students and researchers of Business and Management, HRM and Asian Business. China Review International, 2001 Internal Migration in Contemporary China D. Davin, 1998-10-30 As China moves from a society controlling all aspects of life including population movement to something nearer a market economy, migration has become a live issue. Tens of millions of rural migrants have entered China's cities, meeting discrimination similar to that experienced by economic migrants in the West. This book looks to the reasons why people leave certain areas, the lives of migrants and government policy towards them. It distinguishes different types of migration and looks particularly at marriage migration and the effects of migration on the lives of women. China Review, 2003 Chinese Foreign Policy in Transition Guoli Liu, 2004-01-01 Since the establishment of the People's Republic of China in 1949 and particularly after the opening brought about by economic reforms, roughly thirty years thereafter, China has become an influential player in regional and global affairs. Increasingly both American and European policymakers examine Chinese foreign policy as a flexible, pragmatic and significant element in world affairs. This has accelerated in the middle of the new first decade of this century as business firms and political officials have developed interests in the sources, processes and significance of China's reemergence as a global force. This volume examines how, in conjunction with rapid economic growth and profound social transformation, China's foreign policy is experiencing significant transition. The purpose of this truly deep and probing collection is to deepen Western understanding of the sources, substance and significance of Chinese foreign policy with a focus on the post-Cold War environment. Contributors include academic specialists, area researchers and distinguished journalists, all with firsthand experience in the field of China studies. The volume is divided into four parts: 1 theory and culture, 2 perspective and identity, 3 bilateral relationships and 4 retrospective and prospective essays on Chinese policy concerns The volume is sensitive to changes in national leadership and Communist Party structure as well as continuity and change in foreign policy As Lowell Dittmer of the University of California notes in his Foreword precisely because it is so difficult to do well the analysis of foreign policy is often conducted rather tritely Thus it is a real pleasure to find assembled here a treasure trove of some of the finest work by some of the field s most penetrating minds This is fortunate for at the core of this volume is one of the biggest and most portentous questions to confront the world at the outset of the twenty first century That question is in the decades to come what role will China play in the world As the homeland of about a fifth of mankind this question is almost guaranteed relevance whatever the fate of China s domestic economy Guoli Liu is associate professor of political science and international relations at the College of Charleston in South Carolina Chinese Foreign Policy in Transition is an extremely useful collection of articles by leading China scholars Lucian W Pye Foreign Affairs The National Review, China ,1916
