Chinese Bronzes:

Recasting the Past: The Art of Chinese Bronzes, 1100-1900 Pengliang Lu, 2025-02-28 Bronze vessels were the ultimate emblems of power in ancient China. Beginning in the twelfth century, the rediscovery of ancient bronzes as evidence of an earlier golden age led to a revival of bronze casting. This publication is the first comprehensive study of these later Chinese bronzes in archaic styles which were commissioned by emperors and officials from the twelfth through the nineteenth centuries to assert political legitimacy and alignment with traditional values. Redressing the misconception that these works were mere imitations of the ancient vessels, they emulated Recasting the Past demonstrates that they were in fact creative reinterpretations of antique shapes and decorative motifs that were fundamentally new creations with their own aesthetic and functional character. Featuring nearly two hundred objects, many never before published, including ceremonial bells, incense burners, flower vases, ritual vessels, and writing utensils, Pengliang Lu explores their cultural and political significance from the Song dynasty through the Qing dynasty and shows their enormous influence on Chinese art and culture.

Ancient Chinese Bronze Art William Thomas Chase, 1991 This catalog focuses on the casting techniques of archaic bronzes. Ancient Chinese Bronzes Chengyuan Ma, 1986 Drawing on a wealth of archaeological data, this study gives a succinct yet comprehensive survey of ancient Chinese bronzes. The book discusses the alloy and mining processes, the casting techniques, and the evolving historical and social background over a two thousand year period during which the tools, weapons, vessels, musical instruments, and other bronze pieces were produced and used. Chinese Bronze Ware Song Li, 2011-03-03 Chinese Bronze Ware provides an accessible introduction to ancient China's magnificent bronze culture with full colour illustrations. Archaic Chinese Bronzes of the Shang, Chou and Han Periods in the Collections of Mr. Parish-Watson M. Parish-Watson, William Douglas Parish, 1922 An Examination of Chinese Bronzes John Calvin Ferguson, 1915 Ancient Chinese Bronzes in the Saint Louis Art Museum St. Louis Art Museum, Steven D. Owyong, Suzanne Hargrove, Thomas Lawton, 1997 Early Chinese Bronzes Albert James Koop, 1924 The primary aim of this work is to place before students of art and archaeology a carefully selected series of illustrations showing the variety of forms and schemes of ornamentation applied to bronze vessels and implements in early and medieval China. From preface Ancient Chinese Bronzes Daniel Shapiro, 2014-07-15 A large format presentation of a superb private collection of rare ancient Chinese Shang dynasty c. 1200 BCE bronze ritual vessels, illustrated in black and white and in colour and described in detail. The book begins with personal notes and views of the collector, followed by illustrated essays written by three leading American scholars: Robert D. Jacobsen, Chair of the Department of Asian Art, Emeritus, Minneapolis Institute of Arts; Robert D. Mowry, Curator of Chinese Art, Emeritus, Harvard Art Museums; and Thomas Lawton, Director, Emeritus, Freer Gallery of Art. Chinese Bronzes Mario Bussagli, 1987 中国青铜器 Xueqin Li, 2000 Anthony Hardy's Sze Yuan Tang Collection of ancient Chinese had its inspirational beginnings in the early 1950s when, as a schoolboy in England, he was struck by the architectonic beauty of a solitary Shang jue tripod wine vessel in his father's collection of predominantly Western medieval art. There is little doubt that his early encounter with the archaic jue led to an intense interest in early Chinese art and in ancient Chinese ritual bronzes in particular. Hardy started collecting bronzes seriously in the early 1980s and places great importance on what he calls the Four P's: Patination, Pictogram, Precision, and Provenance. To Hardy, a bronze vessel worthy of collecting must have a good natural patination, nature's contribution to a great work of bronze art, a pictogram or inscription of historic significance, precision and sharpness of casting, and also provenance recording the academic history of the piece, the collections it has been in, where it has been exhibited, and what has been written about it. When Hardy married Susan Chen, they decided that the exhibition of Hardy's principally Shang ritual bronzes scheduled for late 2000 at the Asian Civilisations Museum in Singapore should be expanded to include sculptural animal bronzes and the more feminine and jewel-like inlaid bronzes of the Spring and Autumn and Warring States periods belonging to Chen's own collection. Together, the two collections offer a more extensive view of the glorious traditions of ancient Chinese bronzes.

The Lloyd Cotsen Study Collection of Chinese Bronze Mirrors Suzanne E. Cahill, 2012-05-30

The Lloyd Cotsen Study Collection of Chinese Bronze Mirrors is a 2009 co-publication of the Cotsen Occasional Press and the UCLA Cotsen Institute of Archaeology Press. Volume I: The Lloyd Cotsen Study Collection of Chinese Bronze Mirrors Catalogue includes an engaging foreword by Lloyd Cotsen, an overview of major Chinese dynasties and periods, and a brief history of Chinese bronze mirrors by Suzanne E. Cahill. This volume presents a detailed catalogue of the extensive Cotsen Collection through high-quality images and illustrations of the mirrors in their approximate chronological sequence. Volume II: a set of eleven scholarly essays goes further to investigate these mirrors as a study collection. Guided by the conviction that this particular constellation of mirrors may lead to substantive insights that cannot easily be obtained otherwise, the leading scholars who contributed to this volume used the materials in Volume I as a point of departure for explorations of topics of their own choice. The publication of this two-volume set preceded an exhibition of the mirrors at the Huntington Library Art Museum and Botanical Gardens and the return of the collection to China in recognition of that country's rightful cultural patrimony.

Treasures from Shanghai Jessica Rawson, 2009

In contrast to the West, where diamonds, gold, and silver have usually been highly valued, in China, bronzes and jades were chosen early on for the society's China's most valued artefacts and retained this very high status over millennia. Bronze and jades were used in China for ritual and burial and were thus associated with the sacred worlds of the ancestors and spirits. In later China these precious relics of the past were collected by rulers and scholars as routes to understanding a distant golden age. These ancient objects, some dating from the Neolithic period, set the artistic standard for all time; this is where Chinese art begins. Chinese bronzes, in particular, are one of the world's major art forms. Few, if any, other ancient cultures achieved the artistic excellence and technical virtuosity in bronze attained in China. Using a unique casting method involving multiple ceramic section moulds, the Chinese cast vessels, weapons, and ornaments of great beauty and elegance. Jade, too, is central to China's culture. This tough, translucent stone has been worked to produce the most prized ornaments and ceremonial implements from the Neolithic period to the present day. The jades featured in this catalogue, carved by some of the groups of ancient inhabitants in the Shanghai area, include wonderful decorated ritual jades, cong, bi discs, weapons, and ornaments. This catalogue not only celebrates an important collection but highlights the extraordinary skills of the craftsmen of very early cultures, placing the objects in their historical and archaeological context. Here are exquisite objects made for the ancient Chinese elite and subsequently revered by emperors and collectors alike.
