Scientific Inquiry Cycle: Review

Science helps communities solve problems by applying knowledge and creating things that "solve" real-world issues such as water quality or waste management using science. Ideas or proposed solutions can have a positive impact on understanding the problem fully, including its causes and effects, as the first step in finding an effective resolution.

Designing solutions requires considering various constraints, such as budget, time, and safety concerns. Constraints represent some part of a problem that creates challenges, demands, or is important to weigh when making a choice. For example, creating materials for a house that they affect its cost and ease of use, cannot influence the effectiveness of the solution.

After identifying a solution, determining how it works, what constraints affected it, and any compromises that have already been or should be made on the idea. Communication, using design models, and reflecting on the results of the solution are important steps. The process of reflecting, sharing ideas, and evaluating resources, decision-making, and team communication, leads.

01. Mark the best answer for each question.

1. What is the first important step when working on how to solve a local problem?
- a. Designing a solution
 - b. Finding the most appropriate materials
 - c. Spreading safety concerns
 - d. Understanding the problem fully
2. What does determining constraints in a solution help with?
- a. Finding the constraints of the solution
 - b. Evaluating the solution's cost and safety
 - c. Showing how to solve the problem
 - d. Determining what the solution has to solve
3. Which is an example of a trade-off?
- a. Finding a solution with no constraints
 - b. Finding a solution with no trade-offs
 - c. Finding a solution with no constraints and trade-offs
 - d. Using unbreakable materials
4. Why is communication important in the scientific process?
- a. To avoid not being in agreement
 - b. To make ideas clearer
 - c. To finish the problem by comparing
 - d. To avoid discussing the work

02. Mark if the statement is True (T) or False (F).

1. A solution made after one failed attempt is always better than the first one.

Answer for each question.

1. How does identifying a solution help in the scientific process?

2. Why must this be considered in designing a solution?

3. What might happen when creating a trade-off?

4. How does communication help in the scientific process?

5. Why are trade-offs essential in scientific understanding?
