China Reforming Intergovernmental Fiscal Relations

Mr.Philippe Wingender

China Reforming Intergovernmental Fiscal Relations:

China Ramgopal Agarwala,1992 China Ramgopal Agarwala,Banco Mundial,1992 Reforming China's Public Finances Mr.Ehtisham Ahmad,Mr.Vito Tanzi,Qiang Gao,1995-09-08 The reform of fiscal relations between different levels of government is crucial to the success of China's current structural transformation to a socialist market economy The reform will profoundly affect macroeconomic stability growth prospects and the effectiveness of providing public services and interregional equity In order to review international experience and to clearly identify the policy options for China in the short to medium term a conference was held in Shanghai in October 1993 The papers in this volume edited by Ehtisham Ahmad Gao Qiang and Vito Tanzi include those presented at the conference and a few that supplement it Fiscal Policy in China Roy W. Bahl,1999 In this book Professor Roy Bahl traces the history of the 1994 tax reform in China and evaluates its impact The 1994 reform was the most systematic and comprehensive restructuring of China's revenue system It covered the country's tax structure tax administration central provincial fiscal relations and provincial local fiscal relations In a concluding chapter he examines possibilities for continuing taxation reform in China Only a scholar with Professor Roy Bahl's extensive experience as adviser to developing countries on tax reform could have written a book with such breadth and depth This book should be required reading for all students of economic development comparative fiscal systems or the Chinese economy Intergovernmental Fiscal Relations in China Roy W. Bahl,1992 Is there a best way to divide fiscal responsibilities between China's central and local governments in China's three tiered fiscal system Issues in Intergovernmental Fiscal Relations in China Ms.Era Dabla-Norris,2005-02-01 The paper reviews the changing nature of intergovernmental fiscal relations between the provinces and the central government in China over the past two decades and provides an assessment of the success of previous reforms in meeting their objectives Key existing weaknesses in the current system that undermine these objectives are identified Alternative instruments procedures rules and incentives that could result in better outcomes are outlined by drawing upon relevant cross country experiences Taxation in Modern China Donald J. S. Brean,2013-10-23 Taxation in Modern China is concerned with tax and public financial issues arising in China's economic transition The contributors among the leading authorities on public finance transitional economics and policy reform in China direct attention to the largest and most comprehensive fiscal reform program in modern history The essays collected here cover the main institutional intergovernmental and industrial issues and address the long term challenges facing China as well as transitional changes Governance, Decentralization and Reform in China, India and Russia Jean-Jacques Dethier,2000-09-30 The papers in Governance Decentralization and Reform in China India and Russia which were presented at a ZEF conference in May 1999 deal with three critical aspects of governance in China India and Russia political reforms at the local level fiscal reforms in intergovernmental relations and legal reforms The volume collects contributions from 24 outstanding economists political scientists and legal specialists including Vito Tanzi Daniel Treisman

Pranab Bardham, Jean Dr ze Katharina Pistor and Kathryn Hendley Distorted economic and political incentive structures capture of the state by powerful elites and inoperative legal systems are factors that have greatly complicated the political economy of reform in these three large countries with heterogeneous populations Addressing these political and institutional issues is essential to designing good policies One particular goal of this volume is to bring together new analytical insights and empirical evidence on governance a new and growing field of research The volume is divided into three parts fiscal federalism decentralization and provision of local public goods and legal reforms Part I discusses the role of incentives in fiscal federalism The papers analyze the effects of different revenue sharing mechanisms between different levels of government in particular the effects on regional growth and inequality and the incentives that local politicians may have to provide public goods depending on fiscal arrangements with the central government In adapting their governance structures all three countries have been striving for increased decentralization But the theoretical literature suggests that in a decentralized setting second best solutions must prevail it is not possible to ensure incentive compatibility simultaneously with optimal allocation of resources and a balanced budget in providing public goods Part II discusses taxation and public expenditure management both as a political and as a budgetary process Two questions which the papers address are Does participation of stakeholders and accountability of public authorities improve economic and social outcomes Does better governance in the provision of basic goods such as health care and education improve equity While decentralization is often seen as a way to improve the quality of public services rule based governance is viewed as a safeguard against the arbitrariness of public officials and weaknesses in law enforcement The five papers in Part III focus on the rule of law the role of the judicial system in establishing a rule based economy and the effectiveness of legal institutions during the transition from socialism to a market economy They present overviews of current legal reform issues in the three countries and discuss various conceptual approaches to addressing legal reform issues
