Dynamics Of European Union:

The Dynamics of European Union Roy Pryce,1989      The Dynamics of European Integration Derek Beach,2017-09-16 A major new theoretical and empirical contribution to our understanding of the influence of EU institutions vis vis governments in the major decisions about both widening and deepening the European Union Engagingly written and based on significant new archival research and original interviews Derek Beach offers both a new history of the major treaty negotiations of the EU and a new leadership model of European integration

Dynamics of Change in the European Union Daniel Naurin,Anne Rasmussen,2013-09-13 Agreements concerning inter institutional rules in the treaties of the European Union often give rise to reactions and processes of adaptation within the EU institutions Recent literature on EU legislative politics has increasingly examined decision making within the EU institutions but has largely overlooked how these internal processes react and adapt to changes in relations between the EU bodies To fill this gap the authors present a series of empirical studies that examine how shifts in inter institutional rules and procedures affect intra institutional politics They show that the resulting intrainstitutional adaptations may in turn both have distributive consequences and affect the efficiency of the initial inter institutional reforms In addition they provide some stepping stones for theory building on how treaty reforms affect organizational structure and decision making within the EU institutions by outlining a series of mediating variables that link these two types of change processes This book was originally published as a special issue of West European Politics

New Legal Dynamics of European Union Josephine Shaw,Gillian More,1995 This volume offers a set of essays on diverse topics whose common link is a shared belief in the value of theory as a tool to explore new dimensions of the subject

The European Union and South East Europe Andrew Geddes,Charles Lees,Andrew Taylor,2013-05-02 This book explores the interaction of the EU in Greece Slovenia Croatia and Macedonia in three key policy sectors cohesion border managements and the environment and assesses the degree to which the European Union s engagement with the democracies of South East Europe has promoted Europeanization and Multi Level Governance Although there is a tendency to view the Balkans as peripheral this book argues that South East European states are central to what the EU is and aspires to become and goes to the heart of many of the key issues confronting the EU It compares changing modes of governance in the three policy areas selected because they are contentious issues in domestic politics and have trans boundary policy consequences in which there is significant EU involvement The book draws on over 100 interviews conducted to explore actor motivation preferences and perceptions in the face of pressure to adapt from the EU and uses Social Network Analysis Timely and informative this book considers broader dilemmas of integration and enlargement at a time when the EU s effectiveness is under close scrutiny The European Union and South East Europe will be of interest to students and scholars of European politics public policy and European Union governance and integration

Dynamics of Change in the European Union Daniel Naurin,Anne Rasmussen,2017-05-24 Agreements concerning inter institutional rules in the treaties of the European Union often give rise to reactions and processes of adaptation within the EU institutions Recent literature on EU legislative politics has increasingly examined decision making within the EU institutions but has largely overlooked how these internal processes react and adapt to changes in relations between the EU bodies To fill this gap the authors present a series of empirical studies that examine how shifts in inter institutional rules and procedures affect intra institutional politics They show that the resulting intrainstitutional adaptations may in turn both have distributive consequences and affect the efficiency of the initial inter institutional reforms In addition they provide some stepping stones for theory building on how treaty reforms affect organizational structure and decision making within the EU institutions by outlining a series of mediating variables that link these two types of change processes This book was originally published as a special issue of West European Politics

The Dynamics of Change in EU Governance Udo Diedrichs,Wulf Reiners,Wolfgang Wessels,2011 The emergence execution and evolution of new modes of governance across several policy fields and encompassing all three pillars of the European Union are mapped analyzed and evaluated In particular the expert contributors focus on the ways in which these innovative mechanisms and practices interrelate how they relate to old methods of governance and what their implications are both for the effectiveness and efficiency of policymaking Conclusions are drawn in the form of an integrated new framework that explains the dynamics of EU governance with an integrative spiral driven by the interrelation between the legal and the living architecture of the EU Linking research on modes of governance to the analysis of the basic legal institutional and procedural features of the EU up to the Lisbon Treaty this book will prove essential reading for scholars researchers and policy makers in the fields of European studies law and economics and political science and theory

Building a Dynamic Europe Jordi Gual i Sole,2004-01-15 This succinct book provides a broad panorama of the key economic policy challenges facing the European Union today The enlargement of the EU and its lacklustre performance over the last decade in terms of employment and productivity growth have prompted wide ranging calls for economic reform both at the EU level and within member states This volume brings together several leading thinkers in the key areas of policy under discussion ranging from the institutional design of the enlarged EU for efficient policy making to the extent and nature of the integration process in markets such as those of energy and financial services It includes an analysis of the problems of macroeconomic policy co ordination in the EU and an analysis of the reforms in the labour markets and welfare state institutions Timely and authoritative this book is accessibly written and will appeal to a wide policy audience

Dynamics and Obstacles of European Governance Dirk De Bièvre,Christine Neuhold,2007-01-01 This book examines some of the major origins of change in institutions and policies in European governance The authors combine a sophisticated institutional analysis with in depth insights into European policies across a wide variety of policy fields The fields examined are higher education employment research police co operation as well as foreign affairs trade energy and security and defence policy Presenting the fruit of years of collaboration in an EU funded

Research Training Network the authors expand the mechanisms through which political actors transform apparent deadlock into actual change in European policy making

The Dynamics of Social Exclusion in Europe Eleni Apospori, J. Millar, 2003 Issues of poverty and social exclusion are high on the European policy agenda This book reports findings from a study funded by the European Commission using data from the European Community Household Panel with a multi dimensional approach to international comparisons of poverty and social exclusion

The European Parliament in Times of EU Crisis Olivier Costa, 2018-11-24 This book assesses the many changes that have occurred within the European Parliament and in its external relations since the Lisbon treaty 2009 and the last European elections 2014 It is undoubtedly the institution that has evolved the most since the 1950s Despite the many crises experienced by European integration in the last years the Parliament is still undergoing important changes in its formal competences its influence on policy making its relations with other EU institutions its internal organisation and its internal political dynamics Every contribution deals with the most recent aspects of these evolutions and addresses overlooked topics providing an overview of the current state of play which challenges the mainstream intergovernmental approach of the EU This project results from research conducted at the Department of European Political and Governance Studies of the College of Europe Individual research of several policy analysts of the European Parliamentary Research Service EPRS have contributed to this endeavour

The Political and Economic Dynamics of the Eurozone Crisis James A. Caporaso, Martin Rhodes, 2016 This is the first book to provide a full and dispassionate account of the politics and economics of the Eurozone crisis focusing on the interlinked origins and impacts of the Euro Zone crisis and the policy responses to it The book is distinguished from existing research by its avoidance and rejection of the too often simplistic analysis that has characterized political media and regrettably some academic coverage and by its attempt to escape from the tyranny of day to day events and short term developments Each of the contributors identifies an important question and undertakes a careful empirical theoretically informed analysis that produces novel perspectives Together they seek to balance many of the existing accounts that have rushed to sometimes unwarranted conclusions concerning for example the locus of institutional power in European crisis management the power and centrality of particular member states notably Germany which has been attributed with hegemonic status the supposed entrapment of EU policy makers by an austerity ideology and the deep flaws that apparently afflict the solutions to the crisis put painstakingly in place such as Banking Union While it will be some time before the EU can put the crisis behind it and the dust finally settles on the revised institutional system that emerges The Political and Economic Dynamics of the Eurozone Crisis marks an important step towards a considered reflective analysis of the tumultuous events and developments of the crisis period

Constructing a Policy-Making State? Jeremy Richardson, 2012-09-20 Constructing a Policy Making State sets out to examine the processes by which Europeanization takes place Europeanization is defined as the process by which the key decisions about public policies are gradually transferred to the European level or for new policy areas emerge at the European level This is in contrast to definitions of Europeanization which focus on the adaption of member states to European public policies Thus the main focus is whether a European Union policy making state is being created via changes in the distribution of power between member states and the European level institutions over time In addition to several overview chapters such as on agenda setting in the EU there are twelve sectoral studies which analyse the differing trajectories and outcomes of the Europeanization process and the extent to which the European Union can make authoritative allocations The case studies have been selected in order to illustrate the degree of cross sectoral variation in the process of Europeanization from sectors which have yet to see very much Europeanization such as health to sectors such as competition policy which are almost fully Europeanized The book is consciously multi theoretic in its approach drawing on a range of theories and concepts from theories of European integration to theories of public policy processes

50 Years of EU Economic Dynamics Richard Tilly, Paul J.J. Welfens, Michael Heise, 2007-11-09 On the occasion of the 50th anniversary of the European Union experts present their analyses of historical developments and new economic challenges for the EU After a reflection on historical dynamics the contributors point out the dramatic economic shifts between Europe Asia and the US Representatives from major central banks including the ECB other leading banks and academia analyze the dynamics of the Eurozone and financial market integration in the context of globalization and economic growth Furthermore the authors discuss the challenges of information and communication technologies by means of various country analyses Moreover the Schumpeterian prospects for Europe and the Lisbon Agenda the long term challenges of EU pension reforms emission trading systems in the EU and options for a new EU constitution are highlighted At the bottom line of this EU analysis are major implications for investors managers policy makers and the public at large in both the EU and the global economy

The Neighbours of the European Union's Neighbours Sieglinde Gstöhl, Erwan Lannon, 2016-02-24 Should the European Neighbourhood Policy stop at the borders of the European Union's immediate neighbouring countries This book is the first full length study of the neighbours of the EU's neighbours a concept originally introduced by the European Commission with reference to Saharan Africa the Middle East and Central Asia These regions in the EU's broader neighbourhood are often perceived as an arc of crisis from which manifold challenges emanate for Europe This timely book takes stock of the state of the EU's cooperation with the neighbours of its neighbours and explores how the concept might help promote security stability and prosperity beyond the countries which are formally part of the European Neighbourhood Policy How can the EU create bridges between these regions What instruments does the EU have at its disposal and how can it link them in order to respond to the challenges and overcome the current fragmentation One of the conclusions is the suggestion to consider a pragmatic EU Strategy for the Neighbours of its Neighbours which addresses the needs of the broader EU neighbourhood in a more systematic and consistent manner and helps transform in the long run the arc of crisis into another ring of friends

Constitution Building in the European Union: The Process of Treaty Reforms Brendan Smith, 2002 This book focuses on the negotiations of what are termed the eight constitutional IGCs These eight include the negotiations of the 1950s and 1960s on the European Coal and Steel Community the European Defence and Political Community the European Economic Community and European Atomic Energy Community the Fouchet Plan the Single European Act the Maastricht Treaty the Amsterdam Treaty the Nice Treaty The book challenges the neofunctionalist and liberal intergovernmentalist perspectives that have been used in the past to explain the process of IGCs The author presents an alternative perspective in the form of an incremental model to explain the nature of negotiations at all eight constitutional IGCs It is also argued that the increasing frequency of IGC negotiations signifies a gradual institutionalisation of the process to the point where the constitutional IGC is becoming a regular feature on the EU's political landscape Governments are locked into a process of constitutional IGCs that leaves the primary legal document of the EU in a state of perpetual reform In turn it is argued that the incrementalism that defines the IGC negotiations shapes the entire process of European integration and the general nature of the European Union

The Dynamics of Powers in the European Union Christina Eckes, Päivi

Leino-Sandberg, Anna W Ghavanini, 2024-09-19 Separation of powers is the time tested touchstone of the legitimate exercise of power in modern democracies This collection examines decision making in the EU's multilayered and polycentric constitutional structure through this lens The focus on separation of powers reveals how strong executive powers collaborate in the EU as a single source of public power which is not sufficiently counterbalanced by parliaments or the judiciary The collection explores 3 policy fields marked by crisis the economic and monetary union EMU migration and trade Drawing on expertise from across these sectors with a strong conceptual thread linking all the contributions this important work illustrates how different branches of government co determine each others powers

The European Union in the 1990s

Paul Graham Taylor, 1996 What is the European Union The European Union in the 1990s answers this question by presenting an overview of the EU what it now is how it evolved into its present form how the sense of identity with its citizens sustains it and what is the relationship with the outside world which best suits it Paul Taylor investigates the range of conflicting views on the role of the European Union and is sharply critical of both the growth of Euroscepticism and calls for a Federalist approach He shows that as the conditions of sovereignty are continually changing in the modern world further integration does not threaten the nation state On the contrary he asserts that integration brings advantages for the citizens in Europe The author sees the European Union as a unique arrangement between states beneficial to the majority of individuals without threatening national sovereignty The European Union on the 1990s provides a clear accessible overview of the EU ideal for students and those involved in the politics of the European Union

Dynamic European Maritime Clusters N. Wijnolst, 2006

European maritime industries are often fragmented not only geographically but also in terms of sectors and company size This book states that in order to face the increasing global competition Europe should address these constraints and create a more integrated network and market of the European maritime sectors industries and entrepreneurs

in Europe Jacint Jordana, Michael Keating, Axel Marx, Jan Wouters, 2018-12-21 Changing Borders in Europe focuses on the territorial dimension of the European Union. It examines the transformation of state sovereignty within the EU, the emergence of varied self-determination claims, and the existence of a tailor-made architecture of functional borders established by multiple agreements. This book helps to understand how self-determination pressures within the EU are creating growing concerns about member states' identity, redefining multi-level government in the European space. It addresses several questions regarding two transformative processes: blurring of EU borders and state sovereignty shifts, and their interrelations from different disciplinary perspectives such as political science, law, political economy, and sociology. In addition, it explores how the variable geographies of European borders may affect the issue of national self-determination in Europe, opening spaces for potential accommodations that could be compatible with existing states and legal frameworks. This book will be of key interest for scholars, students, and practitioners of EU politics, public administration, political theory, federalism, and more broadly of European studies, international law, ethnic studies, political economy, and the wider social sciences.
