the fierce disputes that arose in Britain in the decades around 1900 concerning patents for electrical power and

In Patently Contestable Stathis Arapostathis and Graeme Gooday examine how Britain's patent laws and associated cultures changed from the 1870s to the 1920s They consider how patent rights came to be so widely disputed and how the identification of apparently solo heroic inventors was the contingent outcome of patent litigation Furthermore they point out potential parallels between the British experience of allegedly patentee friendly legislation introduced in 1883 and a similar potentially empowering shift in American patent policy in 2011 After explaining the trajectory of an invention from laboratory to Patent Office to the court and the key role of patent agents Arapostathis and Gooday offer four case studies of patent centered disputes in Britain These include the mostly unsuccessful claims against the UK alliance of Alexander Graham Bell and Thomas Edison in telephony publicly disputed patents for technologies for the generation and distribution of electric
