The Eagle in Fact and in Fiction Johanna Johnston,1966 Retells the legends that have sprung up about eagles shows the use made of his image as a symbol of nations tribes and families and describes how this magnificent bird lives flies and cares for its young

Eagle's Nest Peter Willey,2005-11-25 I B Tauris in association with the Institute of Ismaili Studies
Magnificent castles and fortresses in remote mountainous regions were built for refuge by the Ismaili Muslims of Iran and Syria fleeing from persecution during the early middle ages Often superior in construction to those built by the Crusaders these castles withstood numerous offensives for over two centuries until the middle of the 13th century when most were captured and demolished by the Mongols In his new book Peter Willey describes the discoveries he made during the course of more than 20 expeditions to these Ismaili sites spanning the past forty years The book is exceptionally well illustrated with photographs maps and plans As well as being a piece of original scholarship it is also a readable personal account of the challenges encountered in expeditions to remote inaccessible and often hazardous locations

Thinking about Stories Samuel Lebens,Tatjana von Solodkoff,2023-10-31 Thinking About Stories is a fun and thought provoking introduction to philosophical questions about narrative fiction in its many forms from highbrow literature to pulp fiction to the latest shows on Netflix Written by philosophers Samuel Lebens and Tatjana von Solodkoff it engages with fundamental questions about fiction such as What is it What does it give us Does a story need a narrator And why do sad stories make us cry if we know they aren't real The format of the book emulates a lively verbal exchange each chapter has only one author while the other appears spontaneously in dialogues in the text along the way raising questions and voicing criticisms and inviting responses from their co-author This unique format allows readers to feel like they are a part of the conversation about the philosophical foundations of some of the fictions in their own lives Key Features Draws on a wide range of types of narrative fiction from Harry Potter to Breakfast of Champions to Parks and Recreation Explores how fiction despite its detachment from truth is often best able to teach us important things about the world in which we live Concludes by asking in the final chapter whether we all might be fictions Includes bibliographies and suggested reading lists in each chapter

The Collected Writings of Marcia A. Murphy Marcia A. Murphy,2020-03-30 The psychotic break occurred when I was in the vulnerable twenties for me a naive time of adventure and risks and I was devastated Only later was I to learn that psychotic episodes and hallucinations may have real world significance My own experience told me this but the view of scientific psychiatry that was drummed into me by family counselors doctors etc made me doubt Yet I knew something momentous had happened and I wanted to know what and what it meant for my life The search took me to the library the public library the university library the health sciences library and there I found books that some of them told a different story There I was to learn that the mind is more than the workings of the material brain I was to find that mental illness including psychotic episodes can be a means of personal transformation and may have spiritual significance
