Naval aviation arrived early in the last century in the form of balloons and airships employed by the British Royal Navy for reconnaissance and interest was stirring in naval circles in a greater aeronautical capacity for the service Britain's tradition of projecting a global reach through her sea power would in the view of many be greatly enhanced by such a capability Among the first advocates of military aircraft development was British naval minister Winston Churchill Over the course of the last century since this point of inception huge leaps have been made in the design development and performance of naval aircraft This comprehensive account brought to us by eminent aviation historian Philip Kaplan details the journey from origin through early development into wartime deployment This is carried forward through post war innovations and into modern conflicts such as the Falklands campaign Attention is paid to the key landmarks of aviation history such as Taranto Pearl Harbour The Doolittle Raid the Battle of Midway and the Korean campaign Reference is also paid throughout to the flying aces the high points in the combat careers of the greatest naval and marine aviators of the past century Kaplan weaves multiple threads in an effort to produce a comprehensive and detailed history One of these is the part played by women in the history of flight detailing a journey characterised by ever closer involvement at the vanguard of aviation development showing how societal changes have impacted upon this area in tune with others Bringing the history up to date there is a section dedicated to the Helicopter its varying uses current disposition and status of the various types in the U S and British navies Complemented by a collection of interesting photographs this is sure to appeal to aviation enthusiasts as well as social historians of the past one hundred years this isn't just a history of the various aircraft but of the people who got them off the ground and flew them into a new century

Eagles Over Taranto James Edmond Macdonnell,1963 In the Ranks of Death Richard Doherty,2010-06-15 When war broke out in 1939 over 20 000 Irishmen were serving in the Royal Navy Army and Royal Air Force with the greatest proportion in the Army During the war this rose to over 120 000 suggesting that about 100 000 enlisted during the war Nine earned the Victoria Cross three members of the Royal Navy including a Fleet Air Arm pilot four soldiers including a member of the Australian forces and two RAF pilots The author looks at the seven Irish regiments in campaigns across the globe at Irish soldiers across the Army at Irish sailors from the Battle of the River Plate to the final actions against Japan and at Irish airmen from the first bombing raids of the war to the closing days of war Included are outstanding personalities such as the Chavasse brothers who earned three DSOs three DSCs and two MiDs Bala Bredin Corran Purden Brendan Paddy Finucane Blair Mayne and Roy Farran the latter pair highly decorated SAS officers There are also Irish generals such as Paddy Warren who died while commanding 5th Indian Division in Burma and Frederick Loftus Tottenham who commanded 81st West African Division not to mention giants such as Alexander Auchinleck Montgomery and McCreery Irish women are not forgotten in the book which also takes a brief look at the Irish in other Allied forces including a most unusual volunteer for the US Navy whose application to serve had to be approved by President Roosevelt He was William Patrick Hitler a nephew of Germany's Führer

British Naval Aviation Dr Tim Benbow, 2013-07-28 In 1909 the British Admiralty placed an order for a rigid airship marking the beginning of the Royal Navy's involvement with airpower This collection charts the Navy's involvement with aviation over the following century and the ways in which its rapid expansion and evolution radically altered the nature of maritime power and naval strategy Drawing on much new historical research the collection takes a broadly chronological approach which allows a scholarly examination of key themes from across the history of British naval aviation The subjects tackled include long standing controversies over the control of naval air power crucial turning points within British defence policy and strategy the role of naval aviation in limited war and discussion of campaigns such the contribution of the Fleet Air Arm in the Mediterranean and Pacific theatres of the Second World War that have hitherto received relatively little attention The collection concludes with a discussion of recent debates surrounding the Royal Navy's acquisition of a new generation of carriers setting the arguments within an historical context Taken as a whole the volume offers fascinating insights into the development of a key aspect of naval power as well as shedding new light on one of the most important aspects of Britain's defence policy and military history By simultaneously addressing historical and current political debates it is sure to find a ready audience and stimulate further discussion
