Baseball In Washington, D.c. Frank Ceresi, Mark Rucker, 2004-04-02 Baseball has been enjoyed in our nation's capital for a century and a half. Just 13 years after baseball's rules were codified the Washington National Baseball Club formed and in 1867 toured the country. By 1901 the team became one of the first 8 major league teams in the newly formed American league. In 1924 the Senators took part in what many consider to be the most exciting World Series in baseball history. Later the Homestead Grays played at Griffith Stadium. The Grays during a 10 year span won 9 Negro League World Championships. When the Grays disbanded the original Senators left for Minnesota in 1960 and the expansion Senators of the 1960s relocated the city was left without a professional baseball team. 100 historic photos

The Early Image of Black Baseball James E. Brunson III, 2009-09-12 This volume examines early black baseball as it was represented in the artwork and written accounts of the popular press. From contemporary postbellum articles, illustrations, photographs, and woodcuts, a unique image of the black athlete emerges, one that was not always positive but was nonetheless central in understanding the evolving black image in American culture. Chapters cover press depictions of championship games, specific teams, and athletes and the fans and culture surrounding black baseball. The American Photo Engraver, 1909 American Photography, 1925
