When a net force acts on an object, the object's motion will change. This means that the object's speed or direction will change. However, if the net force is zero, the object's motion will not change. This means that the object's speed and direction will stay the same. This is called Newton's first law of motion. Another important concept is acceleration. Acceleration is the rate at which an object's velocity changes. Velocity is a vector, which means it has both a magnitude and a direction. Acceleration can be caused by a change in speed or a change in direction. For example, a car moving in a circle at a constant speed is accelerating because its direction is constantly changing. Newton's second law states that the acceleration of an object is directly proportional to the net force acting on it and inversely proportional to its mass. This means that if you double the net force on an object, its acceleration will also double. If you double the mass of an object, its acceleration will be halved. Newton's third law states that for every action, there is an equal and opposite reaction. This means that if one object exerts a force on another object, the second object exerts an equal and opposite force on the first object. For example, if you push on a wall, the wall pushes back on you with an equal and opposite force.  Answer the correct answer for each question. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Which of the following is not a type of contact force?             <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Friction</li> <li>Spring</li> <li>Normal</li> <li>Gravitational</li> </ol> </li> <li>Which of the following is not a type of contact force?             <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Friction</li> <li>Spring</li> <li>Normal</li> <li>Gravitational</li> </ol> </li> <li>Which of the following is not a type of contact force?             <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Friction</li> <li>Spring</li> <li>Normal</li> <li>Gravitational</li> </ol> </li> <li>Which of the following is not a type of contact force?             <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Friction</li> <li>Spring</li> <li>Normal</li> <li>Gravitational</li> </ol> </li> </ol>
