Forever My Jerusalem Pu'ah Shtainer, 1987 The poignant autobiographical story of the fall and evacuation of the Jewish Quarter as witnessed through the eyes of a young girl With maps

Abba's Way Stephen Rose, 2005-12 In Abba's Way Jesus returns to set the world's religions straight Abba is the shockingly familiar Aramaic name for God that Jesus uses in the Lord's Prayer Jesus argues that this very Abba is within each of us ready to change our lives for the better If we only have eyes to see In 70 brief poetic essays Jesus explains how we can move the world from its present violent precipice to a global society built around negotiation individual achievement and openness to the presence of Abba in each person On the occasion of the publication of Stephen C Rose's The Grass Roots Church The New York Times called the author a new Martin Luther whose theses might change today's world

Agadat en Jaakov Ibn Habib, 1916

Expanding Suburbia Roger Webster, 2001-01-01 During the last few decades suburbia has grown enormously and become a phenomenon attracting the attention of scholars as well as practitioners by whom it is seen as an increasingly significant and complex area of modern life The essays in this volume consider a range of representations of suburban life from the late nineteenth century to the present day including fiction film and popular music drawn from America and Australia as well as Britain They explore and challenge traditional views of suburbia so that rather than a location of conformity and stereotypicality it can be viewed as a site of social conflict division and ambiguity as well as a source of significant creativity across a range of cultural texts The volume takes a thematic approach considering the rise of suburbia imagined and real suburbias alternative suburbias all of the essays have a strong historical dimension and the overall approach is characterized by interdisciplinarity
