Government Policies and Ethnic Relations in Asia and the Pacific Michael E.

Brown, Sumit Ganguly, 1997-10-20 Efforts to contend with tensions inherent in multiethnic societies case studies of India Pakistan Sri Lanka Burma Thailand Malaysia Singapore Indonesia the Philippines China Australia New Zealand Papua New Guinea Fiji Vanuatu and the Federated States of Micronesia Ethnic conflict one of the most serious and widespread problems in the world today can undermine efforts to promote political and economic development as well as political economic and social justice It can also lead to violence and open warfare producing horrifying levels of death and destruction Although government policies on ethnic issues often have profound effects on a country the subject has been neglected by most scholars and analysts This volume analyzes different policies governments have pursued in their efforts to contend with the tensions inherent in multiethnic societies The book focuses on Asia and the Pacific the most populous and economically vibrant part of the world The heart of the book is a set of case studies of government policies in sixteen countries India Pakistan Sri Lanka Burma Thailand Malaysia Singapore Indonesia the Philippines China Australia New Zealand Papua New Guinea Fiji Vanuatu and the Federated States of Micronesia The studies consider a wide range of political economic educational linguistic and cultural policies and how these policies have evolved over time Using a broad comparative perspective to assess the effectiveness of different governmental approaches the authors offer policy recommendations that cut across individual countries and regions

Police and Government Relations Margaret E. Beare, Tonita

Murray, 2007-01-01 Questions of police governance accountability and independence have been subjected to thorough research before That the issue still draws critical attention more than twenty years after the McDonald Commission of Inquiry into Certain Activities of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police suggests that understanding and a resolution to the issue still elude us Despite the modifications to police practice that the Charter of Rights and Freedoms has brought there is still concern over the degree of independence the police exercise and debate over where the line between legitimate government direction of the police and illegitimate political interference should be drawn Police and Government Relations explores the question of police governance and independence from a number of different points of view Editors Margaret E Beare and Tonita Murray offer multi disciplinary comparative and case study methodologies written by scholars from law political science and criminology to illustrate the diversity of opinion that exists on the topic and to explore how the operating tension between police independence and democratic governance and accountability has played out both in Canada and other countries This book does not attempt to find final answers its goal is to provide a framework for a continuing discussion that may lead to helpful and workable recommendations for the future It serves as an academic and intellectual contribution to an important matter of public policy Contributors Margaret E Beare Alan Borovoy Gordon Christie Susan Eng Dianne Martin Tonita Murray Kim Murray W Wesley Pue Kent Roach Robert Simmonds Lorne Sossin Philip Stenning Toni Williams
