present for Father s Day Mother s Day Birthdays Thanksgiving Christmas and any occasion Write Be Happy The teacher's prayer Zillah Dugdale,1895 Email Discourse Among Chinese Using English as a Lingua Franca Yuan-shan Chen,Der-Hwa Victoria Rau,Gerald Rau,2015-10-24 This edited volume makes a valuable contribution to the burgeoning research field of English as a lingua franca In a pioneering step the collection is exclusively devoted to the English email discourse of Chinese speakers The studies address innovative topics related to various contexts and relationships using several different approaches and theories which taken together shed light on how English serves as a lingua franca in multiple types of global written communication The research topics presented are organized into four thematic sections including emails from students to professors emails from students to the international academic community emails from peer to peer and emails at the workplace This collection of empirical research invites readers to consider the special features of apologies requests terms of address politeness and discourse organization and how cultural differences may affect the use or interpretation of each Throughout the book readers will also discover how Chinese speakers use special features and strategies to construct their identity establish relationships and achieve successful communication in English This highly informative thought provoking book also provides insights on methods for teaching email discourse using English as a lingua franca and suggests directions for future research the sunday school teacher's magazine ,1855 Dear Teacher Justin Ruffin,2020-10-18 I received the instructions to write this book during the COVID 19 pandemic and I felt that this book was rather out of place for the times we were in but I obeyed anyway When I began to write the Lord spoke so many things to me but the most interesting thing I heard Him say was Poor Teacher This struck me as odd because I did not know why He was saying it but it became clearer as life during the pandemic unfolded During the COVID 19 pandemic one of the things that we across the world began to appreciate more was the teacher This was when things began to become clear and the oddness faded As a church kid I always felt that teachers got the short end of the stick I watched people celebrate pastors evangelists and prophets They feared apostles but it seemed as if they disregarded teachers This was always something that I internally questioned When I became a teacher I saw such parallels between the teacher in academic settings and in the spirit that it was mind blowing I began to see clearly the need for teachers to arise In the same way that there is a shortage of teachers in secular settings there is also a lack of teachers in the realm of the spirit more specifically GOOD teachers This made the instructions I received clearer but I still felt something was missing While preparing to write this book I replayed the words the Lord spoke to me several times over One day while having a conversation with one of my mentees I realized that I heard the Lord wrong He was not saying poor teacher but He was saying POUR teacher When I recognized this there was a settling that took place and I had a full understanding of the message of the Lord This caused His words to take on another meaning and that is how this book was birthed When I realized that THIS is what the Lord was saying I was excited and blessed When you look at what it means to pour you can see that it is the opposite of what I originally thought When you pour something there is typically a need or desire for what is being poured Think of this when you pour juice or water into a cup or vessel it is usually because someone asked for it someone needs it or because you are anticipating the needs of others This in essence is what teachers do The book you are about to read will take you on a journey into the world of the teacher It is full of God given insight that will aid you in discovering you who are the burdens you carry and give you language for your assignment Dear Teacher the Father has readied your roster set up your classroom and your students have enrolled Now He and your students are waiting on you to pour Are you willing Are you ready Let s take this journey together as we take a closer look at the teaching gift and prepare you to receive your students Class will soon be in session get ready to pour
