Death is No Dead End Betty Ruth Salls,1972      Rethinking Philosophy in Light of the Bible Brayton Polka,2014-10-15 Rethinking Philosophy in Light of the Bible analyzes the ideas that are central to the philosophy of Kant Hegel and Kierkegaard in order to show that they are biblical in origin both ontologically and historically Brayton Polka argues that Schopenhauer has an altogether false conception of the fundamental ideas of the Bible creation the Fall of Adam and Eve and covenantal love and of Christianity which leaves his philosophy irredeemably contradictory as he himself acknowledges The aim then is to show that our modern values the values that constitute modernity are biblical in origin It is only when we come to understand that modernity is biblical from the beginning and that the Bible is modern unto the end that we are able to overcome the opposition so evident today between philosophy and theology between reason and faith and between the secular and the religious Polka makes central the distinction that Kierkegaard draws between Christianity and Christendom Christianity represents the coming into historical existence of the single individual Christendom represents Christian values that are rationalized in pagan terms As Kierkegaard shows us if God has always existed eternally then he has never existed eternally then he has never come into historical existence for the single individual The distinction between Christianity and Christendom is the distinction not between faith and reason but between truth and idolatry While theology and philosophy each represent the truth of Christianity Schopenhauer s idolatrous concepts of faith no less than of reason represent Christendom

blood/work: poems bani haykal,David Wong Hsien Ming,Izyanti Asa'ari,2026-02-24 blood work brings together three poets whose voices intertwine across themes of endurance immanent pain and the body s remembering Moving between confession and collaboration the collection traces how blood as kinship sacrifice and persistence binds us to histories both chosen and imposed Each poet writes into the work of living the physical the emotional and the collective labour of becoming In dialogue their poems blur boundaries of voice and authorship building a shared anatomy of care and survival blood work asks what is passed through us what we carry and how writing might transform what wounds into what endures

Stratagem of the Corpse Gary J Shipley,2020-01-30 This book is unique in its dedicated tackling of the subject of death in the work of Jean Baudrillard Through new readings of his work the book makes so patently clear the importance of Baudrillard s tendency to poeticize his core indebtedness to Georges Bataille Alfred Jarry and others and his reliance on paradox Ultimately Stratagem of the Corpse is less a making sense of death and more a transcript of what occurred when death made sense of us a reverse thanatology in which death delineates the variant forms of our encroachment not so much death as seen by Baudrillard but Baudrillard as seen by death
